STARTING ALL OVER AGAIN. Marion's street maintenance crews were out in force Sunday to begin the job of snow removal again. The 2½-inch snowfall early Sunday made streets slick and snow-packed and the low temperature promised to make the cleaning process a slow one. This was the scene looking south on S. Main St., where loose snow was being graded to the street's center prior to being scooped up and hauled away. More snow is expected Thursday and Friday.

Legislature Convenes in New Session

Democrats in Control First Time in Decade; Finance Top Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 172 lawmakers wheeled into the state capital today to begin a half-year—or longer—wrestling match with state problems.

Most of the problems have a big $ stamped on them.

But a number of other things which will take up the time of the 98 Democrats and 74 Republicans in the two houses will revolve around differences in political philosophies.

Since the Democrats, who will be in control of the General Assembly for the first time in a decade, see things somewhat differently from the Republicans, there likely will be some changes, particularly in the field of social legislation.

Biggest Headache

Ohio's empty purse, however, promises to be the big headache for the Democrats who control the house 78-61 and the senate 20-13.

The pinch of falling income and rising demands for more state spending has impelled Gov.-Elect Michael V. DiSalle to suggest a short session now, a recess to study the money problem and a longer session late in the year to work out the solution.

At the moment, however, that plan of action appears unlikely. Most legislators seem to believe the money problem can be worked out while they work on a multitude of other matters.

Today's first sessions of the two houses of the 103rd General Assembly are dictated by the Ohio Constitution. That document provides the senate shall meet at 1:30 p.m. and the house at 2 p.m. on the first Monday in January following the election.

Will Complete Formalities

The sessions will consist of formalities and organization of the two houses. The organization itself is a formality.

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert will call the senate into session, the members will take the oath of office, the Democrats will nominate Sen. Frank King (D-Lucas) for president pro tem and the Republicans will nominate Sen. C. Stan-

CITY OFFICIALS TURN VALVES. One of six new filtration units at the Marion Water Co.'s plant west of the city was officially placed in operation during an open house ceremony Sunday afternoon. Shown turning the valves that set it in operation are Mayor Wendell L. Strong and Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th), chairman of the utilities committee of City Council. Explaining the operation are L. Otis Porter (second from right), water company manager, and Charles Whysall (right), chief chemist. The ceremony marked the completion of improvements totaling nearly $1,000,000.

Schools Shut By Snow in Some Areas

Little Moderation Is In Sight; Streets and Highways Remain Icy

Winter clattered back into Marion County Sunday, bringing with it a 2½-inch blanket of snow and sending the mercury tumbling to 8 below zero early this morning.

The Arctic air mass, prior to arriving in the Buckeye state, brought the coldest weather thus far this season to much of the country and gave promise of below normal temperatures for at least the next five days.

Wind Whips Snow

The snow here fell early Sunday, whipped along by a brisk wind. It hiked to 15 the total inches noted in the county so far this season. The mercury, having dropped to 2 above after Saturday's high of 36, rose to 35 again Sunday before starting its sub-zero plunge.

This morning's minus 8 was the coldest reading in the county since the minus 6 of Dec. 14. That reading ended a stretch of frigid weather in which below zero degrees were recorded on six nights in one week. A minus 13 on Dec. 9 is the lowest reading to date this winter.

The weekend's cold and snow brought city, county and state street and road maintenance crews out in force to salt and cinder intersections and begin the job of snow removal.

The wind, which accompanied the snowfall at gusts of up to 35 m.p.h., caused considerable drifting in the country, but most roads were passable this morning.

Three Schools Closed

Three schools in the area were reported closed. Mount Gilead and Johnsville in Morrow County suspended classes for the day, while Sulphur Springs in Crawford County was forced to close due to the failure of a furnace heating fan. An official low of 10 below was recorded in Bucyrus.

The weatherman, looking at the frosty thermometer this morning, predicted a high today of only 8 above, with a low tonight of 7 below. He forecast a high of 18 Tuesday.

At noon today the temperature was still one degree shy of the zero mark.

Over Ohio as a whole for the next five days, temperatures are expected to remain between 5 and 10 degrees below normal. The cold is expected to moderate only slightly Tuesday and Wednesday, with snow flurries anticipated over the entire state Thursday and Friday.

9 Below at Dayton

Other low readings in the state were a minus 9 at Dayton, 6 below at Columbus, Cincinnati and Toledo, and 7 below at Findlay.

The Cleveland Weather Bureau reported the temperature there had dropped to 7 below at 7:30 a. m., the lowest reading of the winter and the second coldest Jan. 5 on record. The coldest in Cleveland was 13 degrees below zero Jan. 5, 1884.

In most of the northern counties, particularly in the northeast near Lake Erie, snow flurries were falling and settling into drifts here and there where winds were strongest. Roads throughout the northern part of the state were hazardous, the Weather Bureau said.

Elsewhere in the state, skies were clear and a bright sunny day was forecast for today. Another bright day is on tap for Tuesday

Wendell Strong To Run Again

Political Activity Stirs, City Candidates Get Set for Race

Aspirants for mayor, City Council and four other municipal posts are girding for the battle ahead as a fresh political season dawns in Marion.

In addition to the city's top executive post and all council seats, the jobs of president of council, city auditor, treasurer and solicitor will be up for grabs.

A NUMBER OF incumbents intend to seek nomination at the May primary. Three have said they will not.

Incumbent Republican Wendell L. Strong took out candidacy petitions at the Marion County Board of Elections this morning and said he definitely will seek a second term.

City Auditor Elmer Shaw and Treasurer Harry D. Cahill, both Republicans, also obtained petitions this morning.

It's largely a matter for conjecture as to who else will enter the mayoralty race, but it appears probable that Mayor Strong will encounter opposition from within his own party.

Councilman Richard Lister (R-at large) said that he isn't planning to file for nomination to his council seat because he will be moving outside the city. He added, however, that if conditions change, he might be a write-in candidate, possibly for mayor.

—:—

TO DATE no other Republicans have indicated they will run against Mayor Strong although some names have been mentioned.

Several names also have been tossed around as Democratic possibilities for mayor although no formal declarations have been voiced.

Among names mentioned most frequently is that of Harold Smith, incumbent councilman at large.

When questioned about his aspirations, Mr. Smith said he definitely plans to run for city office but added that he is undecided as to which one.

New faces may appear in the posts currently held by Thomas C. Fetter (D-at large), City Solicitor Riley Hall and Mr. Lister.

ASKED IF HE is planning to seek office again, Mr. Fetter replied emphatically: "No, I am not."

To the same question, Mr. Hall replied: "No, I am not going to run for solicitor again."

Of seven other incumbents contacted, four said they are planning to seek office again. They are: John E. Robbins (D-1st), Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th), Mr. Cahill and Mr. Shaw.

Marion Water Co. Shows Its New Facilities

Open House Is Held; Marks Completion of Million-Dollar Project

Some 400 persons braved the snow and cold Sunday to join the Marion Water Co. in an open house program marking the completion of plant improvements totaling nearly one million dollars.

In a brief ceremony in the new main filter building, one of the six new filtration units was placed in operation shortly after 2 p.m. and tours through the plant were conducted from 1 p.m. until after 7 p.m.

L. Otis Porter, company manager, said today that because of the poor weather conditions yesterday, he would like to extend an invitation to Marion residents to visit the pumping and filtration plant west of the city at any time.

He pointed out that someone is on duty at the plant 24 hours a day and that "we'll be glad to take interested persons through it."

During the brief ceremony, Mr. Porter and other company officials explained the various opera-

Up $3 Million

Tax Value of Real Estate Rises Here

Real estate tax valuation in Marion County soared to a record $81,761,400 during 1958, according to the annual abstract just completed in the county auditor's office.

The total, a $2,851,290 increase over the $78,910,010 computed for 1957, includes valuation of agricultural lands and industrial, commercial and residential lands and buildings.

—:—

CHANGES IN land usage, primarily from agricultural to residential, coupled with stepped-up building programs are generally responsible for the increase, according to Auditor Maurice C. Clements.

Residential valuation accounts for the bulk of the increase. It stands at $43,090,250 for a gain of $1,969,540 over 1957.

VALUATION OF industrial land and buildings increased by $1,333,880 for a new total of $7,254,700. Commercial valuation slipped back from $11,905,260 to $11,760,890—a decline of $144,370.

The auditor said the largest single increase in industrial valuation was accounted for by new buildings at the Whirlpool Corp. Whirlpool's contribution to the increase was $229,920.

Within the city, the taxing value of real estate jumped $1,188,490 to a new peak of $45,897,440. Of this, buildings account for $35,164,010 and land valuation is $10,733,430.

Total valuation in the 15 townships is $31,907,060, an increase of $1,543,500 over the 1957 total of $30,363,560. Marion Township alone has a valuation of $9,569,560 against $8,588,420 last year.

The county's seven villages have a total valuation of $3,956,900 for a $119,400 increase over the $3,837,500 figured last year.

Mayor Wants Study of Labor Plan in Toledo

A public meeting designed to be the first step in the formation of a labor-management citizens committee in Marion will be held Jan. 14 or 15 at the YMCA, Mayor Wendell L. Strong announced today.

He said he has asked members of the Toledo Labor-Management Citizens Committee to come to Marion and explain the workings of their group to local industrial, business and labor leaders and the other interested citizens.

Purpose of the committee would be to help in the solution of strike problems in the city, the mayor said.

The Toledo committee is a chartered organization with its own officers, by-laws and operating funds and has worked successfully to reduce the strike problems in that city, the mayor said.

Establishment of such a committee here will take time, the mayor said, adding "but it's high time we got started on it."

Traffic Deaths Come Close to Estimated Toll

Traffic	376
Fires	60
Miscellaneous	112
Total	548

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic death toll during the long New Year weekend, showing sharp upward trends at the start and the close, edged toward the preholiday estimate of 390 today.

The final count awaited delayed reports of accident deaths which occurred up to midnight Sunday. It started at 6 o'clock (local time) New Year's Eve.

Although it appeared possible the final total would reach the National Safety Council's estimate, indications were the final toll would be under the record traffic toll of 409 for a New Year holiday period. That mark was posted in a four-day period at the end of 1956 and the start of 1957.

Notes Swift Pace

The Council noted the swift pace of deaths on the highways Sunday as the homeward rush of motorists reached the peak of travel. The upturn was similar to the toll on New Year's Day after a relatively safe start.

Weather was a big factor in the count. Many accidents were attributed to the snow and ice-slicked highways. But the hazardous driving conditions also resulted in keeping many Sunday drivers at home. The bitter cold weather throughout many areas also was responsible for the lighter traffic.

Comparative Figures

The New Year traffic toll was far under the slaughter on the highways during the four-day Christmas holiday period. The Christmas accident deaths included 594 in traffic, 93 in fires and 97 in miscellaneous type mishaps, an over-all total of 784.

The Associated Press, for comparative purposes, made a survey of accident deaths during a nonholiday period of four days, from 6 p. m. Wednesday Dec. 10 to midnight Sunday Dec. 14. It showed 341 deaths in traffic, 106 in fires and 105 in miscellaneous type accidents, an over-all total of 552.

Radio Signals Fade Out

Soviet Rocket Continues To Travel Toward Sun

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's cosmic rocket continued its headlong dash toward a solar orbit today in man's greatest conquest of space.

Its radio signals ceased as the 1½-ton device—now called Mechta (dream)—went past an estimated 370,960 miles in its plunge away from the earth. It had then been in flight 62 hours.

Resources for feeding the radio equipment had become exhausted, the Soviet news agency Tass said.

"The program of observations and scientific investigations of the rocket has been completed," an announcement said.

Will Take 15 Months

This predicted the rocket will finally enter an orbit around the sun Wednesday or Thursday. Mechta is due to take 15 months to go around the sun, traveling elliptically.

The Russians calculate this orbit would have a maximum diameter of 214¼ million miles. The rocket would get no nearer the sun than 91½ million miles. The sun averages 93 million miles from earth.

The name Mechta was applied to the rocket today by Pravda, the Communist party newspaper. When it was announced last Saturday that the rocket was headed toward the moon, it was called Lunik, a combination of Luna (moon) and Sputnik.

1.52 Miles Per Second

Scientists here figured that it was travelling at a maximum speed of 1.52 miles a second when it passed the moon Sunday at a distance of 4,700 miles.

Results of radio transmissions between the rocket and ground stations will be published as soon as they are analyzed, Tass said.

The 62 hours of radio communication enabled observations to be made of the rocket's movements, and on the work of the scientific instruments aboard.

The actual number of days that will be required for the solar orbit will be 447, scientists said. This is 82 more than it takes the earth to go around the sun.

Dr. G. M. Clemence, scientific director of the U. S. Naval Observatory in Washington, said that some time in March or February the earth will pass between the rocket and the sun.

The earth has an elliptical orbit around the sun, the same as the rocket will have, but it is tighter. It takes the earth only 12 months to make the full swing.

Soviet newspapers Sunday were filled with comments on the performance and predictions of new space ventures. But there were no further details on the rocket itself, its launching site or power.

On a Moscow radio broadcast Prof. Boris Kukarkin, deputy chairman of the Soviet Astronomical Council, mentioned the possibility of a space ship soaring outside the entire solar system.

Kukarkin said that higher speeds than those needed by Russia's space rocket to escape earthly gravity are probably attainable in the near future.

"Similar space ships will be ca-

Union, Shovel Groups To Clarify Strike Issues

The bargaining committees of the Marion Power Shovel Co. and striking Local 1949, United Steel Woorkers union were scheduled to meet in the company offices at 1:30 p.m. today.

Purpose of the meeting was to clarify some of the non-economic issues which were negotiated in Cleveland early last month, said both company and union officials.

Federal mediators were not scheduled to attend today's meeting.

The meeting was requested by the union, company officials said.

OSU Experts Call for Changes

Study Suggests School Improvements

By ALLAN BOVEY

A total of 23 recommendations with regard to setting up a solid foundation for the future educational needs of Marion County were made by the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research after an extensive survey of the county school program.

Second of a Series

The primary one was the suggestion that the 10 present school districts consolidate to form a single large one.

The bureau noted that none of the existing districts was large enough to meet minimum standards of the State Department of Education.

It pointed out, too, that establishment of one big district would result in an adequate tax base through which all existing districts could mutually benefit.

The OSU experts said that the similarity of social, educational, cultural and economic standards in the county were such that district rivalries could, given a chance, be compromised in the interest of better educational facilities for the area's youth.

THE BUREAU recommended that the proposed reorganized school district operate on a 6-2-4 plan. This plan has kindergarten and grades one through six in elementary schools, grades seven and eight in intermediate schools and grades nine through twelve in high schools.

Adoption of this plan, the bureau pointed out, would be best adapted to existing facilities in each of the 10 districts as well as provide for the establishment of a kindergarten at each elementary school center.

The bureau recommended that the one district operate three high schools, with these centers to be at the recently constructed Ridgedale school and at two other new high schools, to be built along State Rt. 98 between U. S. Rt. 30-S and State Rt. 95 and near the intersection of State Rts 4 and 203.

It further suggested that while elementary centers be maintained in each of the existing districts, educational programs for grades seven and eight be provided at three locations—Claridon, Pleasant and LaRue.

This plan, the bureau asserted, would offer the greatest flexibility should future enrollments exceed present expectations on territory currently in the county school program be lost through annexation by Marion City.

THE OSU EXPERTS, recognizing the possibility of protests, admitted that in some instances, travel to these centers would be rather long and time consuming, but declared that advantages to be gained educationally in this phase of the 6-2-4 program would more than offset the few minor disadvantages.

The bureau recommended that the LaRue building be developed to house approximately 325 pupils in grades seven and eight in ad-

Mitchell Notes Rise in Worker Buying Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today the purchasing power of working people generally has been greatly strengthened in recent months.

Considerable improvement has been noted in both unemployment and inflation, Mitchell said in a new year statement.

He said the business recovery in the last half of 1958 "has been especially gratifying because simultaneously the cost of living has halted its rise." A slight increase was reported in November, the month in which the weekly earnings of the average factory worker reached an all-time high of $86.58.

Mitchell said the nation's 22 million women workers make up one-third of the total working population.

Looking to the new year, Mitchell predicted jobs will remain scarce early in 1959 but that non-farm employment will climb to the highest point in history before the end of the year.

Merchants To Discuss Business Improvements

A special 1959 program aimed at improving downtown retail business will be discussed at the first meeting of the retail merchants division of the Marion Chamber of Commerce Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

Included in the program will be a special message from Charles D. Harmon, president of the Chamber.

The proposed 1959 retail promotion program will be discussed by Jack Lautenslager, division secretary. Normally held at noon, the meeting has been scheduled for Thursday night to provide ample time for discussion of all the problems and the proposed program for this year.

He had lived in Berea, a Cleveland suburb, for 40 years but returned to the family homestead at Zoar after retiring.

Others Are Honored

New Names Grace List Of Best-Dressed Women

NEW YORK (AP)—The annual list of best-dressed women had a new look of its own today.

It was a completely new list.

The perennial winners of the past were given permanent honors in a new fashion hall of fame, thus giving a newer generation of the elegantly dressed women of the world a chance to get on the list each year.

Tied in Balloting

Among those elevated to places vacated by the former title holders were a former New York model and a New York socialite. They tied for first place this year in balloting by 2,500 fashion experts throughout the world. Results were announced Sunday by the New York Dress Institute.

The co-winners were Countess Rodolfo Crespi of Rome—the former Consuelo O'Connor, one of the noted O'Connor twins of New York cover girl fame—and Mrs. Winston Guest of New York and Palm Beach. Mrs. Guest long has been known for her elegant restraint in dress.

Others chosen for the 1959 best-dressed group were:

Mrs. Henry Ford II of Grosse Point, Mich., Princess Margaret Rose of Britain, Countess Quintanilla of Madrid, Mme. Arturo Lopez-Willshaw of Paris, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr. of New York, Mrs. Rex Harrison of London (film star Kay Kendall), Mrs. Thomas Bancroft Jr. of New York, Mrs. Norman K. Winston of New York and Paris, Mrs. Mel Ferrer (film star Audrey Hepburn, now living in Europe), Mrs. Stanley Rumbough Jr. (Dina Merrill, socialite-actress of New York), Mrs. David K. Bruce, wife of the U.S. ambassador to West Germany, and Mrs. Bruno Pagliai of Mexico (actress Merle Oberon).

Below Middle Age

More than two-thirds of the group are well below middle age, most are American and nearly all are active in careers, sports or other interests—making all something more than "clothes horses."

The fashion institute said it was decided to retire the previous constant winners to the permanent hall of fame because "their faultless taste in dress, without ostentation or extravagance, places them above annual comparison."

Those accorded this new distinction were:

The Duchess of Windsor, Mrs. William Paley of New York, Countess Edward Von Bismarck of Paris and Capri (the former Mrs. Harrison Williams), Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, Mme. Jacques Balsan of Palm Beach and New York (the former Consuelo Vanderbilt), Actress Mary Martin, film star and diplomat Irene Dunne and actress Claudette Colbert.

Held in Stabbing

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Answering a telephone report of a family quarrel, sheriff's men found the body of Mrs. Jesse M. Poll, 49, in her suburban Northridge home today. She had apparently been fatally stabbed with a hunting knife, they said.

Her husband, who deputies said made the phone call, is being held for investigation.

Open House Slated at National City Plaza Branch

Building Has the Latest Banking Equipment, New 'Air Door'

Announcement of the grand opening of the seventh office of National City Bank of Marion was made today by Robert E. White, president of the bank. Located on the southeast corner of the new Marion Plaza Shopping Center on Rt. 95, the new branch office will be designated Plaza Branch. An open house program is scheduled Saturday.

"Convenience and service will be the keynotes at Plaza Branch," Mr. White said. "In addition to complete banking and financial services and the latest in electronic and automatic banking equipment, the entire building has been designed for the customer's convenience, comfort and enjoyment. The Plaza Branch will offer the same services as the main office, with the addition of drive-in service."

THE BRANCH will be managed by Richard F. Langdon, who is an assistant cashier of the parent bank and manager of the new branch. Mr. Langdon has been serving as a loan officer in the bank's main office and has served in various capacities with the bank since 1942, with time out for U.S. Air Corps service from 1943-46. He is married to the former Ann Clark of Marion, and they have two children, Judith, 16, a junior at Harding and Stephen, 11, in the sixth grade at George Washington. Mr. Langdon is a member of the Emanuel Lutheran Church, is treasurer of the Lions Club, a member of Marion Homebuilders Associates and the Marion Chamber of Commerce and is a charter member of the United States Power Squadron.

Mr. White said Plaza Branch was designed, built and decorated through the efforts of local concerns and individuals. The contemporary, brick-and-glass structure was designed by the local architectural firm of Edwards & Burris, and built by Baldauf Construction Co.

The exterior of the new office features wide expanses of double-pane "window walls" set in red facing brick to open up the interior to sunlight and the outside atmosphere. A special teller's window with two-way intercom will service drive-in customers on the south side of the bank. Walk-in customers will enter the bank through a "doorless" air door in a mosaic tiled entrance on the west side of the bank. This door utilizes air currents to block out weather, dust and dirt and eliminates the need of customers shifting packages when entering. An electric sign which automatically flashes the correct time and temperature and the name of the bank in illuminated aqua letters complete the identification of the bank on its upper walls.

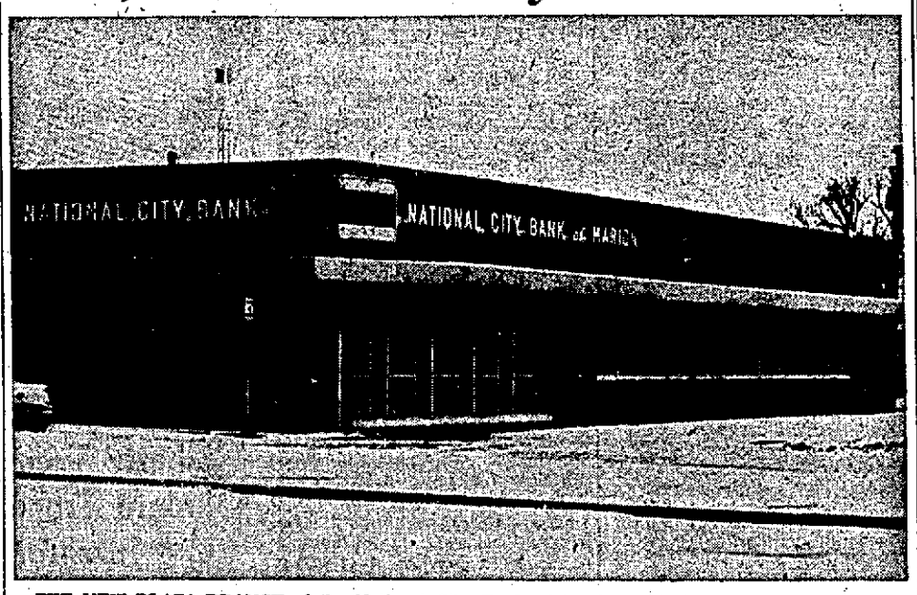
BASIC DECORATING theme inside the bank is brass and walnut, with three walls finished in wide walnut panels with brass dividing strips and a contrasting wall in grass cloth. Counters, check writers and other furniture in Swedish design in walnut and lighting fixtures are brass, also in Swedish Modern. The floor in the customer area is carpeted in a striped pattern of gold, white, gray and black. Windows will be draped in a gold translucent material designed to let in sunlight without glare.

A public Open House is scheduled Saturday from 1 to 8 p.m. Officers, directors and the staff of National City will act as guides as the public tours the facilities. A program is planned for the entire family, including gifts for all and a chance on cash prizes in a "money-guessing" contest.

As special entertainment for the youngsters, Flippo the Clown, popular Columbus TV personality, will be on hand from 1 to 4 p.m. to entertain children.

"We wish to extend a cordial invitation to everyone in Marion to attend this open house," said Mr. White. "There will be plenty of parking space in the big Plaza parking lot, and you can combine the open house visit with a shopping trip to the other stores in the new center."



THE NEW PLAZA BRANCH of the National City Bank of Marion will observe its grand opening Saturday. Open house for the public is planned from 1-8 p.m. The bank, located in the Marion Plaza shopping center, has a drive-in window and special "air door" entrance.

Bonn Rejects Free City Plan In West Berlin

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany today rejected the Soviet Union's proposal to turn West Berlin into a demilitarized free city and called on Moscow to restore the city to its place as capital of a united Germany.

In a note delivered in Moscow, the West German government stressed the four-power responsibility for German reunification and backed up the previous rejection of the Soviet proposal by the Western Big Three.

Berlin's future can be discussed only within the framework of the whole German question, which is indissolubly bound up with the problems of security and disarmament, the note said.

The note said pointedly that the Soviet proposal would place isolated Berlin at the mercy of the Communist East German regime.

Recalling the Communist attempt to blockade the city in 1948, the note said the "presence of Western troops in the city was welcomed by the inhabitants."

It is not the West German drive to the East, as the Soviet Union claims, that is responsible for the situation but on the contrary the Soviet thrust to West, the Adenauer government said.

Crestline Couple Seeks $32,500 After Accident

BUCYRUS — Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Davis of Crestline are seeking judgments totaling $32,500 for injuries allegedly suffered in a school bus-auto crash seven miles east of here on Jan. 7, 1957. Defendant in both actions is Royal E. Dapper of near Crestline.

Mrs. Davis, who asks judgment for $25,000, alleges that Dapper backed his North Robinson School bus into her car. She alleges she was permanently injured and lost $5,750 in wages. She further alleges she is unable to care for her husband and children and to perform her household duties without aid.

Mr. Davis asks judgment of $7,500. He claims he has been deprived of his wife's services and that it is necessary for him to help her with her household duties.

Revenue Service Will Offer Some Help to Taxpayers

"Self-help" again will be featured in the taxpayer assistance program of the Internal Revenue Service during the income tax filing period from now until April 15.

Nathaniel Looker, Columbus district director, said that the taxpayer should complete as much of his tax return by himself before turning to the IRS for help.

"In that way," he said, "both of us will be in a better position when help is needed to get a clear picture of the facts." He added that as in past years there will be an extensive program of taxpayer assistance by telephone.

Many taxpayers may obtain all the information needed by carefully reading this year's instruction books and others may find needed answers in one of the larger tax guides available from IRS, he said. Still others may need assistance that can be provided only by a visit to the local IRS office, he said.

The Marion office, located on the third floor of City Hall will be open each Friday this month for taxpayer assistance. The telephone number is 2-4550.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Labor Bloc May Upset South

Johnson-Rayburn Rule In Congress Threatened

By VICTOR RIESEL

There's no business like the soothsaying business these early days of the New Year. Probing inner space for political predictions reveals the highball has replaced the crystal ball. But as soon as the glib cocktail party is over the secret caucuses will begin the undercover plays which could well pass the power over Congress from the Lyndon Johnson - Sam Rayburn Southern bloc to the Labor-Northern coalition for the first time since Gen. Grant took the White House.

VICTOR RIESEL

If there is any prediction which can be made, it is the coming drive by the Labor - Northern coalition to replace the Southern bloc for all time.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey's eight hour tete-a-tete with Khrushchev was a yawn compared to the time he has spent with some nine other senators and a troupe of politically active labor leaders planning such a drive.

Congress is run by committees. Ever since Barbara Fritchie's hair turned gray, these committees have been controlled by Southern conservatives. But now the heavy Northern Blue lineup says the coming Congress marks the end of Gray line of succession.

IN THE CAUCUSES to which I refer, the Humphrey-labor bloc has actually counted heads and decided that they have enough to outvote Mr. Sam in the House and Sen. Johnson across the hall.

Newcomers to Congress have said aloud that they won't be controlled by tradition. They point out that they can override decisions by the committees chairmen Mr. Sam appoints.

The labor - liberal coalition, for example, has enough votes to count down North Carolina's Rep. Barden on the House Labor Committee and Rep. Cliff Davis, the man from Memphis who has run the Public Works Committee.

Sam Rayburn needs these men to make good his promise that there will not be a WPA outpouring of billions from the new Congress. If his chairmen have no power, the Southern bloc will have a rough time of it — for the Northerners expect to turn on the heat early in the session.

THE LABOR-LIBERAL coalition leaders are predicting that business will be slow the first half of '59. There will be some 4½ million jobless. There will be such temporarily hard-hit areas as Detroit and eastern Ohio, where half the miners are now jobless.

There will be new Okies — families moving from factory town to factory town as they once rolled from the dustbowls in search of work.

Watch, therefore, for the Northern coalition to flood the committees with billion dollar proposals for the building of schools, colleges, hospitals, roads, dams and for aid to depressed areas.

This WPA revival, as the conservatives dub it, will start a mighty row — until it is drowned out by the clinking of dollars in cash registers some time around mid-year.

Judging from what a score of businessmen have said in private conversations, this column therefore predicts such a boom midway in 1959.

This gold rush will end the cry for heavy relief spending. There will be happy talk on the industrial front. But not in Democratic party ranks. The feud will be on. The political chasm will deepen.

And this will be a war in depth. For even this very minute, labor's Political Action Committees are preparing to battle in some 44 state capitals.

That is where you will see labor's machine attempt to change the laws which really count for the unions during regional picketing. Victory in these state legislatures, which usually meet for a few months every two years, would give labor the same influence and prestige inside state political circles which it won during the national sweep last November.

TAKE IT as a solid prediction, too, that as this network of political committees consolidates its operations on state levels, it will waste no time swinging into hundreds of city elections — with 44 (sic) major municipalities already selected as special targets.

You'll hear no more talk of a third party from labor. You may hear it, however, from the conservative Democrats who are being handed their hats and told that they never really had a permanent lease. It only seemed that way. The union armies are marching against the South.

Of Birds and Borers

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Entomologist E. L. Chambers surveyed damage done by European corn borers and found that blackbirds did more damage than the borers.

In some fields, the birds and borers combined to do damage. Chambers said the blackbirds often clustered in such large groups they broke off the cornstalks weakened by the borers.

The 12-12 football tie between Michigan State and Michigan (1958) was the first deadlock between these rivals since 1931.

Students Find There's Cash in Blacksmithing

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—

"His brow is wet with honest sweat,
He earns whate'er he can,
And looks the whole world in the face,
For he owes not any man."

Longfellow was writing the above about the village blacksmith, a trade you might think obsolete in this atomic age.

But a lot of young college trainees are finding out there's still money in the business of shoeing horses.

The demand for trained blacksmiths is such that Michigan State University started offering two courses in horseshoeing this fall instead of one, as in previous years.

The 13-week short course dates back to 1924. Originally, it was aimed at assisting farmers with their personal blacksmithing problems.

The students still are mostly farm youths. But with horses gradually disappearing from the farms, they enter the field to learn to service riding and race horses.

The master blacksmith at MSU is Jack MacAllen, who learned the trade from his grandfather in Scotland.

The students first study the anatomy and care of horses and learn how to operate a forge. They practice on the feet of dead horses. When they've mastered the basics of the trade, they graduate to shoeing live horses on the hoof.

Castro Will Lose His Beard

Next Jan. 16 when Fulgencio Batista celebrates his 58th birthday, he will have satisfied the indispensable requirement of his trade.

He will have stayed alive.

The last time he went under the guns of his political opponents, in 1952, he acknowledged he was getting along in years for revolution. He had hoped to eliminate bloodshed from Cuban politics when he began his career by plotting the overthrow of Gerardo Machado in 1933.

But Batista, nearing the age of 58, knows better now. There will continue to be revolutions in Cuba as long as there are political opponents who put their trust in firearms.

Every Cuban strong man who knows he will have to fight for his life as a condition of staying strong will be forced into the techniques of dictatorship eventually, to preserve himself.

CUBA, politically, is a long way from the day when its political rivals will be satisfied to slander and libel each other, leaving the decision to the sovereign people. The day could come sooner than expected, but it is not likely to come in what is left of Fulgencio Batista's life, or in the longer life expectancy of Fidel Castro, who is only 32.

Castro now becomes the Batista of his generation, the upstart leader of a revolution that has overthrown a dictator. He will shave off his beard and become respectable. It now is his turn to be the "savior of Cuba," the title once bestowed on the man he has driven out of power.

There can be no doubt about it; he has brought off a real revolution. But there was no doubt about it in the spring of 1933 when Batista drove Machado out of power, either. The revolution had been successful.

THE DICTATOR of Cuba was no more. Long live the dictator. Castro without a beard will be just another Batista grown younger, with the same certainty of strong-arm methods in the offing if he intends to save his life.

Without life, he could no more save Cuba than Batista could have saved it a quarter of a century ago when Machado was the dictator. And dictators, these days, aim to live and live and live.

Sooner or Later—Austerity

It might help the representatives and senators in their budget thinking between the beginning and end of the first session of the 86th Congress if they kept Charles de Gaulle's year-end address to the citizens of France handy for reference.

The new leader of France finally is putting into concrete form the thought he introduced to French politics last May — austerity. The price every nation must pay sooner or later if it postpones a showdown with reality too long has fallen due in France.

The franc has been watered down until it is worth about one five-hundredth of a dollar — 493 at the official rate of exchange. Before inflation robbed it of value, a franc used to be worth nearly a fourth of a dollar.

The French deficit has been permitted to drift along until it is twice as large as the economy of France can support, in the estimation of financial experts. U.S. congressmen who need to be reminded of the potentialities of deficit financing and inflation could count on their fingers and toes the digits in the French budget for 1959 — 6,157,000,000,000. The last three digits, still unfamiliar in U.S. public finance, represent trillions.

One of the De Gaulle administration's first moves, in view of the multiple digits that inflation has added to the French economy, is to issue a new franc, equal to 100 of the newly devalued francs. This is the same as it would be to issue a new U.S. dollar equal to two devalued dollars as a gesture of convenience for Americans who wanted to handle less paper and more value.

France under President De Gaulle is coming to grips with inflation. It is willing to accept austerity as the price it must pay for government waste and mismanagement — for private abuse of public power — and for public abuse of private production. That is why it elevated Charles de Gaulle to leadership. He alone had enough courage to tell Frenchmen it was time to face the truth, an evil day that ordinary French politicians were willing to postpone forever.

No Extra Buckeyes in the Teapot

It had been no secret for two years that Ohio's financial surplus was approaching the vanishing point. It was put into the state's building program.

James Maloon, the DiSalle administration's budget director, says the surplus will disappear by the end of next June. At that time there will be no more extra buckeyes hidden in the teapot.

All the money that had been carried over from year to year and biennium to biennium, thanks to the productivity of the Ohio sales tax in its lush periods, will have been committed.

With due allowance for the political advantage of making this known in advance to cool off some of the hot ideas of the incoming assemblymen and with allowance for the strategy of underestimating revenue while overestimating outgo, to maintain a balance, the prospect is that Gov.-elect DiSalle will have to worry about putting more buckeyes in the teapot. Only a miracle could spare him the headache of figuring out how to boost Ohio's income. The miracle would be a voluntary letup in legislative pressure to spend more money.

Yet, though Ohioans know the pressure will be on for more spending and more taxes, they are reasonably certain that the new General Assembly with its Democratic majorities and the new Democratic governor will be as responsible to Ohio opinion as their predecessors have been.

Ohioans have no stomach for the heavy taxes that have been driving industry out of other states, often to Ohio's advantage.

They have no stomach for the practice of plunging into debt for things they cannot afford; they have a constitutional barrier against debt.

No two legislative bodies have been further apart in their collective thought and action on public expenditures than Ohio's General Assembly and the Congress of the United States.

In Washington, legislators quickly and easily get into the habit of giving public spenders what they say they want. In Columbus, spenders have been made to spell out what they need, not merely what they want—and they usually settled for their needs. Gov.-elect DiSalle says he will continue this policy, and with no surplus buckeyes in the teapot he will be held to his word.

Ohioans can be thankful Columbus is not Washington, where in a similar situation there would be either a shakedown for more wherewithal, a wholesale addition to the public debt, or both. In Washington, the spenders have the upper hand. They get all they need and most of what they want.

The vital difference is that Washington is a long way from the voting taxpayers back home, but Columbus is next door. Taxpayers have the upper hand in Columbus.

But This Is Different

It is of more than passing interest that Mayor Wagner of New York City has been as full of vim and fire as anyone else about the possibility that the Teamsters Union might sign up New York policemen.

Mayor Wagner is the son of the U.S. senator from New York who was credited with authorship of the Wagner Act. It is useless to speculate about the views of his father had he lived to see all the things made possible by organized labor's "Magna Charta." But it is a fact that his son vehemently objects to having New York City's policemen signed up by the Teamsters Union.

The point is that there are labor unions and labor unions, and even if the Teamsters Union had a snow-white reputation there nevertheless are some places where unionism should not be permitted.

But Sen. Wagner and the men who framed the Wagner Act made no distinctions between labor unions. Nor did they make distinctions between places where unions belonged and did not belong. That remained for men who were to come along later, like Robert Wagner Jr., who was a Yale student when it was the political fashion in Washington to give John L. Lewis and the late William Green the unrestricted right to organize everything and anything, catch-as-catch-can, no holds barred and the last one in is a sissy.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

How folks miss their newspapers was perhaps never before realized as in recent New York strike. They suffered from hunger pains for daily paper. It was the first time we ever knew undernourishment could come from a lack of ink in the blood stream.

"You look awful. Are you sick?" was a question that could bring the answer, "I feel worse than I look. Certainly I'm sick. I haven't been able to take any solid news in over two weeks."

For the first time millions developed a positive love for their newspaper, feeling its absence as they would feel that of a wife who suddenly fled the house leaving only a note: "Don't feel lonely. You can always play solitaire."

THERE'S NOTHING like a suspension of newspapers to awaken folks to their importance in their way of life. Important as world news is, the folks now realize how much it means not to know who had a baby, got pinched for speeding, slipped in the bathtub, eloped with the milkman, celebrated a wedding anniversary, sold a cow or lost a dog.

After a single day without his newspaper a man fully understands what it does to him to be left in the dark, even about people he doesn't know.

The fire in the delicatessen store, the temperature in Sioux City, the gal who won the beauty prize in Hollhock Hills, the outlook for a caterpillar moth blight in 1959 and the news somebody's cat had a litter of nine kittens mean a lot when we're cut off from them.

MAJOR NEWS is all important but it's the countless minor items from the birth of a buffalo at the zoo to the dropping of one coach on the commuter train that features the appetite of newspaper readers. He is sunk, saddened and sore when he doesn't know who's been sued, promoted or died suddenly.

Probably the women were hardest hit. Christmas season without the advertisements was plain murder. One thing demonstrated was that radio and TV are no substitutes.

Treat 'em Rough! They Like It

The True Conservative

By Raymond Moley

As the New Year begins, just before big news and public problems explode all over the place, it may be worth while to consider some fundamentals

The following reflections are inspired by thinking about the plight of conservatives, especially those in the Republican party.

The failure of some American conservatives, as shown in the election returns, is suggested by a motto which I saw over the fireplace in an inn at Stowe, Vt.: "Ve get too soon old and too late schmardt."

I am not now repeating the old charge that they want to "go back to McKinley," for the economic world of 1900 is as far away from us now as that of the Ming Dynasty. Nor the outworn saw that they would "go back to Hoover," because in fact Herbert Hoover was extraordinarily liberal in his economic ideas.

So let's not talk about "going back" to anything except the basic constitutional guarantees of American liberty.

THE THING that concerns me about some conservatives is their preoccupation with denouncing the liberal Democrats and modern Republicans by name-calling, or their reliance on easy solutions to the specific social and economic problems that have been and will be confronting Congress.

Among these is a return to the gold standard or merely balancing the budget or halting all foreign aid or breaking all relations with Soviet Russia.

All these might be ultimate objectives but to insist upon one or all is not a tenable political platform or anything but a means of immediately upsetting the economic applecart.

The conservatives who, I believe, cannot share their extreme position are mostly businessmen who have themselves come up the hard way, many professional men and women of the same cast of mind and millions in the middle-income groups.

A PASSAGE in one of Matthew Arnold's essays published exactly 90 years ago is immediately pertinent. He referred to an aristocracy newly arisen in England which was challenging the old landowning, titled nobility.

These, he said, owed their preeminence to "staunch individualism . . . to that passion for doing what one likes, for the assertion of personal liberty."

They possessed, he added, all of the fundamental tastes and habits of the workers, including the love of freedom of choice which is the person.

Instead of winning the workers to their side, however, that aristocracy permitted Gladstonean Liberalism to take over for a generation. And the reforms of that Liberalism consisted in doing more for, and not with the workers. The Liberal was a patron, not a compatriot of the worker.

It is so with the so-called intellectuals and labor bosses here and now who dominate the liberal group and, with it, the Democratic party. The great gap in their armor is their reliance upon paternalism by and with the government.

I have just read a book by a modern liberal economist and there isn't a word about the individual and his freedom of choice.

These people are neither liberal in a true sense nor democratic. They are the elite, the "we" who would do something for the people whose instincts and preferences they neither know nor respect.

The course of true conservatism is to revive the spirit of individualism in all. All government policies, like that advocated by the Farm Bureau Federation for the farmers, should be aimed at moving toward self-help and self-reliance.

There must be some intervention of government but always aimed at its own extinction by creating the conditions by which people can provide for their own security and happiness.

Those conditions require reasonable protection, never paternalism. The goal of real conservatives must be to stress the very qualities which they themselves possess.

Visitors' Impressions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Two pretty and adventurous British secretaries, after a 15-month work-travel tour of America, have come up with these conclusions:

HAL BOYLE

"American bosses are more lenient than British bosses."

"In England you get longer lunch periods, but in America you have longer coffee breaks."

"Here a boy on a date asks a girl what she would like to do. In England he has a plan and tells her what they will do. But American boys, on the whole, are more enterprising."

The girls, Hilary Birley and Cecily Thompson, both 22, landed in this country in September, 1957, with $280 each and a determination to see the United States. They drew up their tour with the help of Manpower, Inc., an organization specializing in providing industrial firms with skilled employes on a part-time or emergency basis.

IN THEIR JOURNEY across America and back the two girls held some 40 jobs and earned about $2,200 each.

"We held about every type of job you can imagine," said Hilary. "We waited on tables in Aspen, Colo. We mixed drinks at a convention in San Francisco, we made surveys in Minneapolis, we worked as secretaries in several cities."

"People everywhere were friendly and willing to give us jobs," said Cecily. "We could have earned a lot more, but we took a number of vacations so we could get to see more."

THE HIGH-SPIRITED girls said the biggest blow to their pride came in Aspen when they overheard a chef grumble: "I wish those girls would learn to speak English."

"But we ran into a number of misconceptions about Britain," said Cecily. "Many people here still seem to have the idea that the British working class is oppressed, that food is rationed in our country, that the British have no sense of humor, and that everyone in England drinks tea. Neither of us happens to like tea."

What thing about America upset them most?

"I suppose," said Hilary, "it was the time we went on a date out West and one of the boys ordered a hamburger and topped it with a slice of pineapple and a maraschino cherry."

And the hardest thing about America to adjust to?

"GIRLS GOING to work in the morning still wearing bobby pins in their hair," said Cecily.

"No, men wearing T-shirts in public," said Hilary.

What did they miss most from their homeland?

"The taste of good sharp cheese," said Cecily. "Here all your cheese seems to be processed."

"We both missed the year-round greenness of England," added Hilary.

What quality do they think the British have that Americans lack?

"An ability to amuse themselves," said Hilary, after a thoughtful pause. "The British are more self-sufficient in the use of leisure. The American is likely to be at loose ends if he doesn't find something outside himself to entertain him."

AND CECILY added: "The British young people have more respect for their government, their police, and their elders."

But both girls agreed they'd had a wonderful time and would like to come again. They also think it would be a fine idea if more American working girls would go to Britain and Europe and learn about living conditions there on a similar job-travel program.

"The best way to learn a country is to work in it," said Hilary.

Senate Rules Fight

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The new Senate explodes Wednesday in a fight over changing its rules. It may last weeks and much of it will sound dull. But it's far-reaching. This is an ABC on it.

A bloc of northern Democrats and Republicans wants to change Senate Rule No. 22, which makes it so hard to smash a filibuster that none has been broken in 31 years.

The Senate prides itself on its rule of practically unlimited debate. But debate can have two purposes: To discuss an issue fully before a vote on it or to prevent a vote altogether. The latter is the filibuster.

THE 98 SENATORS will do most of their business—passing bills—by just a simple majority of those present on the floor at voting time. A full majority, harder to get, would be 50 of the 98.

But under Rule No. 22, shutting off a filibuster against a measure—to let the Senate by a simple majority vote decide its fate—requires a two-thirds vote of all the senators, or 66 of the 98.

Getting such a two-thirds vote is almost impossible, except in some national emergency. The reason: So many senators, not just southern Democrats, favor the principle of unlimited debate.

It isn't hard for each to foresee the time when he, too, may want to use it to prevent passage of legislation he intensely opposes.

THE FILIBUSTER has been employed against various proposals in the Senate's long history. In recent years southerners particularly have used it, and successfully, to prevent passage of civil rights bills.

The northerners, favoring new civil rights legislation, protest that Rule No. 22 permits a minority in the Senate, where southerners are in a minority, to thwart a majority.

Southerners argue that a minority under Rule No. 22 can protect itself against the unwelcome will of a Senate majority.

But why all the fuss about changing Rule No. 22? Since the Senate adopted this rule itself, can't it change it easily? Not easily. Here's why:

No time limit of any kind can be put on a filibuster against a proposal to change the rule.

This raises such an obstacle to changing rules once the Senate is in business that the northerners have settled on another plan. It failed in 1953 and again in 1957 and may not work this time.

SENATORS ARE elected for six years. Although every two years the seats of one-third of them are at stake in the elections, the other two-thirds are still in the Senate serving out their unexpired terms.

Because of this, opponents of any change in Rule No. 22 argue that even when there is a new session of Congress, as there is this year, it does not mean a new Senate. They say:

The Senate is never a new but a continuing body. So in each new session of Congress the Senate continues to have the same rules under which it did business in the preceding Congress.

The northerners will argue Wednesday, as before, that each new session of Congress means a brand new Senate and as such the new Senate does not have to inherit rules but should adopt its own.

SO THEY WILL ask Wednesday, before the Senate is fully in business, that it adopt new rules. If they can win that point, they will ask that Rule No. 22 be changed before it's adopted. They reason:

If the Senate agrees that the old rules don't apply until they are freshly adopted, then Rule No. 22, with its protection for a filibuster against a rule change, doesn't apply, doesn't exist, and can't work.

In short, the northerners argue: Until new rules are adopted, the Senate will not be operating under Rule No. 22 or any other previous rule but only under parliamentary law.

This will lead to argument on whether parliamentary law, where rules are concerned, requires a simple majority or two-thirds vote. And no doubt there'll be a filibuster of some kind.

All this should cause a parliamentary snafu on a grand scale.

Time To Stay Home

By Truman Twill

I have become the reluctant owner of my first snow shovel, and this is a pledge to use the implement with discretion.

It is a departure from a philosophy that has stood up well through all the years I have been a householder — that snow, like leaves, should be let alone because nature has plans in which men should not interfere.

With the exception of its removal from places where it clearly is an obstacle to life and progress, as it most certainly is on main thoroughfares and sidewalks traversed by old ladies and barefoot girls, snow should be allowed to melt in a natural, quiet unobtrusive way.

Nevertheless, experience with the snow problems that arise with automobiles finally has convinced me that I need a snow shovel with me at all times in the ancient go-devil that carries me to and from work. The go-devil, itself, is a departure from natural law.

There are times when even a patient man equipped with a philosophy of letting leaves, snow and sleeping dogs lie cannot wait for nature to take its course in an automobile. Everything about the operation of an automobile in a snow-dispensing climate is outside of nature's plan.

The Twillery lies one-fifth of a mile off the highway, at the end of a lane that is a miniature Alcan highway in winter, albeit an abbreviated bridle path through the primeval forest in summer.

It features two stretches, each of about 20 yards, that are drift-prone. In both, snow regularly reaches a depth that no automobile can deal with, unless a channel is cut for the wheels.

Moreover, the snow plow that theoretically earns its keep by being able to gouge out a passageway through these obstacles can do its work only when its wheels have been planted on the ground.

Hence, the snow shovel — the first I have owned. There is no other way to deal with the exigencies of personal transportation than to get out and dig when internal combustion is thwarted by this one of the three hazards that make a mockery of the automobile.

The second is ice, and the third is mud, and both of them are insuperable. Snow, on the other hand, is superable, up to a point. That is why discretion must be used now that I own a snow shovel.

I do not know at what depth snow ceases to be superable, though I am inclined to think it must be about 10 inches. This is a delicate matter, because it has bearing on the state of being snowbound.

This is beginning to look like a winter in which it will be possible to be snowbound, which is a state of mind as well as a state of climatic incarceration.

Fair warning is served herewith that at 10 inches of snow on the level, or less inches than that with high winds and deep drifts, a state of snowboundness will be declared at the Twillery.

No man is obligated to dig his way out of more snow than would be required to give pause to a 10-foot Indian contemplating what it would feel like to wade through it in a pair of buckskin pants and no long underwear. In brief, when the snow gets up to there on a 10-foot Indian, it is time to stay home and wait for it to melt.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in my senior year at the university but I'm going into a profession which requires at least three additional years of training.

I've been going with a girl who has a very good job and has shown me arithmetic proving we could manage financially if we married.

We've been indiscreet on several occasions (I hope you can read between the lines) and now that she's talking about a wedding date I'm in the embarrassing position of not knowing for certain that I want to marry the gal.

I know you'll call me a dirty dog, but should I be pushed into a marriage I'm not sure I want? I know, too, that I deserve a swift kick in the pants but I need some advice. I'll gladly take both. — THE RAM.

P.S.: There's no baby en route.

Dear Ram: Level with this girl and start to date others while you can still make the last statement.

You are a dirty dog and you do deserve a swift kick in the pants. But I'm not going to advise a young man to get married if he's unsure — even if he was "indiscreet."

Many college students marry — and marry successfully — while still in school. But in these cases, they are sure and both are willing to accept the responsibilities. You are neither sure nor willing.

Going, Going?

Dear Ann: My brother-in-law (I'll call him Art) came to live with us last December when his mother was put in a mental institution. I think he should have gone with her.

Art is 17 and in the ninth grade. He's sloppy, lazy and has a vicious temper. He won't listen to me. My husband never says a word to discipline him. Our 3-year-old son is terrified of Art and says he hits him. My husband claims the boy imagines things or is lying.

I've been under a doctor's care for nerves since my brother-in-law moved in. We are his legal guardians until he's 21, but I'll never last that long. What do you suggest?—DONE IN.

Admirable that your husband wants to "do right" by his subnormal brother but he's ignoring his obligations to you and his son.

Explain the situation to your doctor. He should tell your husband what this arrangement is doing to his family.

If your husband refuses to step in and discipline Art, tell him you're leaving for the sake of your own mental health and the welfare of your son.

Lady Be Good

Dear Ann: I'm 17, considered hep and popular at high school. I've started to date a few college men and have run into a situation I'm unable to handle.

A certain dreamy guy asked me for a date. We tripled with five other college students. My date told a rather dirty joke and everyone laughed. I laughed, too, although I was uncomfortable. His joke reminded another fellow of a story and the one he told was really raw. The stories got worse and some of the language shocked me.

I didn't want to act like a baby so I said nothing. I want the boys to respect me but I don't wish to be prudish. How shall I behave? —DEEP PURPLE.

A lady does not laugh at dirty jokes. Laughter adds up to approval and encourages more of the same. If you had sawed off the young man after the first joke, that would have put an end to it.

Vulgar words are inexcusable. If you wish to be thought of as a lady, remind your date that you are one, when he forgets.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Motorist Hurt In Mt. Gilead Auto Accident

Three of the four accidents investigated Sunday in Morrow County occurred on Rt. 42, Marion post patrolmen reported today. Only one of them resulted in an injury.

Robert R. Satterfield, 42, of Wadsworth, suffered right hand injuries and a possible broken left wrist in a two-car collision at 3:45 a.m., two and one-half miles south of Mount Gilead.

Patrolmen said a southbound auto driven by Nathaniel Moore, 33, of Cleveland, was attempting to pass Satterfield's vehicle when it turned around in the roadway on ice, blocking the path of Satterfield's car.

The two autos collided, badly damaging Satterfield's vehicle and doing considerable damage to the Moore car.

Driver Faces Charge

Charged with improper passing, Moore was fined $15 and costs in Mount Gilead Mayor's Court.

Another Rt. 42 mishap occurred about one mile south of Cardington at 9:30 a.m., involving cars driven by Sammie Brooks, 60, of Cleveland, and Robert VanSickle, 19, of Cardington.

Officers said the Brooks auto skidded left of center to smash into the front end of VanSickle's car.

Brooks was charged with driving left of center and fined $15 and costs in Morrow Judge Paul D. Richeson's court. His auto was badly damaged while considerable damage was done to the VanSickle vehicle.

A State Highway Dept. truck was only slightly damaged when a Cleveland man's auto skidded off Rt. 42 and slammed into the right side of it at 12:30 p.m., about one and one-half miles south of the Richland County line.

Driven by Clevelander

According to the report, the southbound auto was driven by Joe Primc, 53, of Cleveland. The stopped highway truck had been driven by Harold L. Lane, 55, of Chesterville.

Charged with unsafe operation, Primc was cited to appear in Mount Gilead Mayor's Court today. Officers said his car was only slightly damaged.

A telephone pole and fence were damaged when an Akron man's auto skidded out of control on Rt. 61, three miles south of Mount Gilead at 6:30 p.m.

Patrolmen said the southbound vehicle driven by Leon Lewkowill, 21, of Akron, received only minor damage. The fence was owned by Paul Long of near Mount Gilead.

Brilliant Portrait of Roosevelt Painted in Schlesinger Volume

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Book Critic

THE AGE OF ROOSEVELT: THE COMING OF THE NEW DEAL. By Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. Houghton Mifflin. $6.75.

Having prepared the way in his first volume, "The Crisis of the Old Order," Schlesinger now unfolds, in more than 750 fascinating pages, the first 18 to 20 Franklin D. Roosevelt months in the White House. This begins with the ebullient Democrat taking over from the icily formal Hoover and carrying on to the unprecedented public endorsement of the New Deal in the 1934 elections.

This was a quarter of a century ago, but millions of us remember that feverish period. After the joblessness, the bonus-marching, the apple-peddling, the factory shutdowns that resulted in widespread bottomless despair, there came the voice of Roosevelt which for three months, the Initial Hundred Days, rallied the entire country behind him, radical and reactionary, boss and employe, banker and borrower, many Republicans as well as Democrats, and the press.

New Deal Measures

Schlesinger takes up one by one the unforgettable New Deal measures, shots in the dark sometimes and often dependable panaceas for fundamental faults in the American structure.

Under the leadership of Henry Wallace, a blend of mysticism and practicality, with Jerome Frank, Lee Pressman, Adlai Stevenson, John Abt, Nathan Witt and Alger Hiss among others as advisers and executives, a new farm policy evolved. Donald Richberg, Hugh Johnson, NRA and the Blue Eagle tried to rescue industry. Cordell Hull at what they used to call the scuttled London Economic Conference won his battle, and in effect his war, with Raymond Moley — "Moley, Moley, Lord God, Almighty," they used to sing irreverently. There were Willkie, George Norris, Arthur Morgan and TVA; Pecora, J. P. Morgan and Whitney; Hopkins, Ickes, Douglas (Lew and Bill), Morgenthau, Tugwell, Wagner and PWA, CCC, NRA, Wagner Act, Old Age Security.

Stupendous Jumble

But as Schlesinger notes, to try to catalog these dramatic developments is to force them into a perspective convenient for the historian but belying history itself. It was a stupendous simultaneous jumble "from NRA, AAA, relief, conservation and monetary policy to disarmament, the Good Neighbor policy, Manchuria, Ethiopia, and Hitler, an incessant series of explosions." At the core of them all, and of this brilliant account of them, were eccentric, dynamic individualists, New Dealers at their best "the ablest, most intelligent and most disinterested public servants the United States ever had."

This is a wonderfully vivid history. There is amazing detail, from Johnson's Old Gold butts to the President's denture, all integrated in the essential record. Schlesinger evokes his characters in all their picturesqueness—Johnson who was a mixture of "top sergeant, frontier editor and proconsul," George Peek who "got mad in 1920 and had stayed mad ever since," Gardner Jackson on whom "the underdog had a leash."

Chiefest of all, of course, is FDR himself, in his cluttered office, at his not too appetizing table, playing one man against another and, whatever his method, clinging always at bottom to lasting humanitarian ideals, Schlesinger will find more fault with him later, I presume, but here all is praise, and convincing praise, too. This is an unqualifiedly brilliant portrait, the sharpest and warmest yet drawn of New Dealer Roosevelt in action.

Call Labeled Hoax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A distress call supposedly from a ship in trouble off the Pacific Coast was labeled a hoax Sunday.

The Coast Guard, which sent two planes over the ocean near San Luis Obispo, learned after investigation the call letters used while sending "SOS . . . please help" were for an inoperative amateur station.

Thieves Enter Station

KENTON — Police in Kenton are investigating the breaking and entering at the Temple Pure Oil Co. Sunday morning in which loss was $140 in cash and an undetermined amount in tools. A rear window of the company building was broken to enable the thieves to enter.

Remove angelfood cake from its pan as soon as the pan feels cool when you touch it, after inverting.

Highway Director Names Two Aides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Everett S. Preston, state highway director designate, today appointed Everett E. Wallace of Columbus his executive assistant.

He also named Arthur D. McIntire of Columbus as director of the Highway Department's public relations section.

Wallace, 49, former personnel director in the Highway Department managed local campaign headquarters for Democratic Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle during the election campaign. For 12 years he served with the Franklin County engineer's office.

McIntire, 32, is a former legislative correspondent for the old Cincinnati Times-Star. He did publicity work for DiSalle during the campaign.

Three Injured in Auto Crash on Kenton Street

KENTON — Three Moncleva, O., residents were treated for injuries at Hardin Memorial Hospital here Sunday at 12:45 p.m. after their car skidded on ice and struck a utility pole on S. Fountain St. The vehicle was driven by Alene Combs and two passengers were Clara Crowe and Dan Harsh. They were treated at the hospital for cuts, bruises and abrasions then released. The car was damaged extensively.

Galion Company Sued

BUCYRUS—The Essenden Corp. of Galion, allegedly formed by Earle A. Wiener of Galion, is named defendant in a $2,012 action for money filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by L. C. Mabee of near Mansfield.

Mr. Mabee claims that the corporation owes him for materials and labor in a building erected for Mr. Wiener on which the plaintiff allegedly has a machanic's lien.

TV Columnist Starts Serving Jail Sentence

Torre Gets 10 Days In Test Case on News Sources Protection

NEW YORK (AP)—Newspaper columnist Marie Torre surrendered today to begin serving a 10-day jail sentence rather than disclose a news source.

Miss Torre, 34 and mother of two young children writes a syndicated television and radio column for the New York Herald Tribune. She appeared before U.S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan and was remanded to custody of a marshal 10:05 a.m.

"I have great hope that this action will lead to legislation which will protect a newsman's sources," she told reporters as she arrived at the courthouse.

Ryan had found Miss Torre in contempt for refusing to disclose the source of a story she wrote in 1957 concerning movie star Judy Garland.

Ryan has said that the columnist again may be adjudged in contempt—even after completing her sentence—if she persists in refusing to identify the Columbia Broadcasting System executive she quoted anonymously in reference to Miss Garland in a column that appeared in the Herald Tribune Jan. 10, 1957.

In it, Miss Torre quoted an executive of CBS in criticism of Miss Garland.

The entertainer filed a $1,393,333 libel suit against CBS. Neither Miss Torre nor the Herald Tribune was named as a defendant.

Ryan adjudged Miss Torre in contempt last November. The Herald Tribune appealed the case to the U.S. Court of Appeals, which upheld the conviction. The case then went to the U.S. Supreme Court, but that tribunal declined to review it.

Soviet Deputy Meets Dulles

Old Bolshevik Mikoyan Pays U.S. Second Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Old bolshevik Anastas I. Mikoyan, insisting he is just on vacation, set up a no holds-barred talk about the cold war, with Secretary of State Dulles today.

The 63-year-old Soviet first deputy premier flew into New York City Sunday and drove directly to Washington.

At New York's airport, he studiously ignored a group of Hungarian refugees, some of whom yelled "murderer" and "Communist dog" at him. But a larger contingent waited in vain at the Soviet U. N. mission headquarters on Park Ave., which he bypassed.

To March With Placards

Today, however, some of the same determined picketers arranged to march with placards outside the State Department, where Mikoyan had his appointment with Dulles. Both Mikoyan and State Department officials indicated the Berlin situation would figure in the talks.

For Mikoyan so far the trip has been "America revisited." He came here in 1936, when he was so impressed with ice cream and the automat that he introduced both ideas to Russia. This time he got excited about cellophane-wrapped doughnuts, motels, parking meters and rental automobiles.

The days ahead also have no fixed schedule. Mikoyan says he will be happy to talk about anything Dulles wants, including Berlin. Dulles says "The initiative is his." Mikoyan says he would be pleased to talk to President Eisenhower if the President has time.

Berlin Biggest Issue

One thing stood out clear. The critical Berlin situation—provoked two months ago by Soviet Premier Khrushchev — is the biggest cold war issue at present, and hence the most likely topic of any talks Mikoyan holds here. The question in the official American mind was: How far is Mikoyan authorized to go—if at all—in backing down from Khrushchev's seeming ultimatum, rejected by the West, that the allies pull their troops out of West Berlin by next May?

A Khrushchev note Nov. 27 said Russia would turn over East Berlin to the puppet East German Communist regime in six months. The United States, Britain and France told Russia firmly, in a note last week, they were staying put in West Berlin, and called for big four conferences on the whole German question.

Mikoyan is expected to take off on a 10-day tour of several American cities Tuesday. He is reported considering stops at Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Boston, Dallas, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

American Airlines Furloughs 20,000 as Walkout Continues

Talks Slated In Prolonged Pilots' Strike

Continued Progress In Narrowing Issues Noted by Mediators

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 20,000 of American Airline's 22,000 employes were furloughed today, as efforts continued to settle a 17-day strike by pilots.

Progress was reported in narrowing issues between the airline and striking members of the Air Line Pilots Assn., when a mediation session broke up early today. Another meeting was scheduled for 10:30 a.m.

American had announced in advance that the furlough order taking the employes off the payroll would become effective at midnight Sunday night if the strike was not settled. Employes kept on the payroll are in supervisory, maintenance and protective classifications.

Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board, said he would try to keep the negotiations going until a settlement is reached. The sessions are being held in his office here.

American is the nation's largest domestic airline from the standpoint of passenger miles flown. It normally carries an average of 22,000 passengers daily, serving 77 cities in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

About 1,500 of the airline's pilots walked out in a demand for more pay and fewer hours of flying time on the new jet airlines the carrier plans to put into service soon.

As negotiations continued in the American dispute, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the recent rash of airline strikes requires a new look at the Railway Labor Act, which governs labor troubles in both the railroad and airline industries.

He said he intends to call a meeting of labor and management representatives from the airline and railroad industries to ask their views on whether the act needs changes. It was indicated he plans to hold the meeting in a week or two.

The Railway Labor Act provides for a system of conferences, mediation and arbitration and for White House fact-finding boards to recommend settlement terms in disputes.

pable of traveling beyond the boundaries of our solar system," he declared.

In Nuernberg, Germany, Prof. Hermann Oberth, who recently resigned from a post as adviser to the U. S. Army's missile program, said the Soviets possibly wanted to hit the moon with their rocket but "slyly covered up" an error in calculation when they established that it would bypass the moon and continue its travel in space.

He said he did not think the Russians were more than two or three months ahead of the United States in rocketry.

DiSalle Asking Salary Boosts For Top Aides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Salary increases for top appointees in the new Democratic administration of Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle will be asked of the Legislature after it convenes today.

Rep. Jesse Yoder (D-Montgomery), new majority floor leader, said he would introduce the emergency measure.

It proposes a cut in the highway director's salary from $30,000 a year to $22,500. DiSalle said during his campaign that he felt the director should not receive more than the governor's $25,000 annual pay.

The measure proposes an increase in the pay of director of mental health and correction from $18,000 a year to $22,500. DiSalle has indicated that he might ask the Legislature later to split that department.

Other proposed increases included:

Finance director—$12,000 to $16,000.

Health director—$12,000 to $18,000.

Workmen's compensation administrator, director of natural resources, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation administrator and liquor director, all $12,000 to $14,000 a year.

Directors of commerce, public works, agriculture, industrial relations, welfare and highway safety—$10,000 to $14,000 a year.

State tax commissioner—$12,000 to $15,000 and state superintendant of insurance to $14,000 a year.

Weather

but temperatures are expected to climb only slightly.

Bitter cold clung to wide areas in the midcontinent and sections of the Rockies.

The cold and snow was blamed for at least 15 deaths. At least three persons were found frozen to death. Others died from overexertion while shoveling snow and in traffic accidents on ice-slicked highways.

Farmers in Florida as far south as Ocala, in the northcentral region, got their smudgepots ready when they heard the cold wave forecast. Southeast Florida basked in summer-like climes, with another day of 70-degree weather in sight.

Most of the Deep South braced for below freezing weather.

Schools closed in some Texas communities.

Industry was hit in Texas and Colorado. Natural gas consumption was curtailed to several cities in Texas, including Dallas and Fort Worth, because of heavier than normal domestic demands for the fuel.

Hit -25 in Texas

Temperatures dropped to 25 degrees below zero Sunday in the Texas Panhandle.

Oklahoma had its coldest weather in 12 years over the weekend and not much relief was reported today. One of the lowest readings was -19 at Guymon and Oklahoma City's -4 was the coldest since Jan. 4, 1947.

Temperatures moderated in the Rocky Mountain states after the coldest weather in 25 years. It was below zero in Denver for 41 consecutive hours.

The coldest spots Sunday were Big Piney, in remote western Wyoming, and Hibbing, in the northern Minnesota iron range district. The mercury plunged to -43 in both communities.

The subzero pattern held the line throughout the Midwest and lowest readings of the season were reported in many cities.

Skies were generally clear in most of the cold belt but snow covered the ground across most of the Midwest and Rockies.

NEW BUILDINGS. Major new structures in the million-dollar improvement by the Marion Water Co. are the new chemical laboratory wing (small one-story building at left) and the new two-story main filter building. The filter building is equipped with six one-million-gallons-a-day filtration units with overload capacities of up to a total of nearly 12-million gallons a day. An open house Sunday officially marked completion of the improvement program.

tions in the processing of the water for its eventual use by the residents of the city. They also described the new facilities and the improvement they will mean in service to the company's customers.

Included in the improvements was the construction of a new main filter plant, a new wing to the laboratory and chemical storage building, a new relay pumping station and a small dam across the Little Scioto River.

Still to be completed is an intake crib which will make it possible for the company to supplement its supply of well water. Mr. Porter said that the three-foot high dam will channel the surface water into the crib from where it will be pumped to an untreated water reservoir.

This intake crib and the installation of necessary pumps is scheduled for completion within the next two weeks, Mr. Porter said.

Inside the large new filter building are six units, each with a capacity of six million gallons a day and overload capacities up to nearly 12 million gallons a day.

Mr. Porter noted that the company has completely electrified its pumping facilities at the plant and that it has more than adequate standby facilities in the event of power failure.

Dual Power Lines

He said there are now dual electric service lines to the plant that are hooked into separate circuits of the Ohio Edison Co. system so that if one circuit fails, the plant can operate off the other.

There also are standby diesel driven pumps that can be used for emergency service in the possibility of complete electric power failure, he said.

Other new facilities in the plant include new testing and analyzing equipment in the laboratories and a new 500,000-gallon clear water reservoir located under the main filter building.

During the ceremonies yesterday, Mr. Porter introduced plant personnel. Charles Whysall is chief chemist for the company and directs the operations of the pumping, purification and softening plant and Lester Green is the chief engineer.

Among city officials attending the program Sunday were Mayor Wendell L. Strong, Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis and councilmen Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th), John Williams (D-2nd), Ralph Williams (R-4th) and John Robbins, (D-1st).

School Survey

dition to the proposed elementary school capacity.

—:—

IT CALLED for the Claridon building to accommodate 300 seventh and eighth graders and Pleasant to care for 400 youngsters.

It suggested that LaRue could adequately serve all pupils in grades seven and eight from the existing LaRue, New Bloomington and Ridgedale districts, except those Ridgedale boys and girls living east of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which runs diagonally from southwest to northeast across the district.

The Claridon building would accommodate those seventh and eighth graders in the existing Tully, Caledonia and Claridon districts, as well as the extreme northern portion of the Pleasant area. Pleasant's intermediate school then could serve the Waldo, Prospect and Green Camp districts, as well as the rest of the Pleasant area.

THE BUREAU recommended that Ridgedale High School be operated solely as a high school, with facilities for 500 pupils in grades nine through twelve. The proposed new building along State Rt. 98 would be built for an enrollment of 550 students, while the one near the junction of State Rts. 4 and 203 would be large enough for 600 pupils.

These capacities, the bureau commented, would provide margins for future growth of 47, 60 and 49 per cent in the Ridgedale, eastern and southwestern attendance areas, respectively.

As for the existing buildings, the survey team recommended that the New Bloomington, Morral, Tully (Martel), Caledonia, Waldo and Prospect buildings all be reconditioned to provide educational facilities as set forth in state requirements. In addition, it suggested that the old Prospect elementary and the old Green Camp high school buildings be razed.

FINALLY, the bureau recommended that a program of general plant improvement be initiated throughout the proposed new district and that special attention be given to health service facilities, lighting, hazardous and unsanitary conditions, faculty rest rooms and food service facilities. It called, too, for a program of site improvement.

In this respect, the bureau noted that sites, in general, met minimum requirements, but suggested that wherever possible the smaller school sites be enlarged, as in the case of Prospect.

The report recommended that all major remodeling and new construction be accomplished only after thorough planning with competent architectural and engineering services.

These, then, are the basic conclusions drawn by the surveyors.

The bureaus pointed out if the 10 local districts would unite into a single district on the basis of these recommendations, present indebtedness of all districts would be assumed by the new district.

To the question of why persons in areas without debt should be asked to shoulder indebtedness of other areas, the report emphasized that existing assets of districts in debt would also be shared by those free of debt.

Although the Ridgedale district, for example, has a large existing debt which others would help pay, it also has a new high school. Its residents in turn would help to pay for new facilities serving patrons in other sections of the county.

Concludes the bureau: "All communities would profit from the improved educational program resulting from district reorganization, regardless of the location of the facilities."

It is significant to note at this point, although the matter has already been taken cognizance of, that none of the recommendations made by the OSU group are binding on the county board or any of the local boards.

Area residents, therefore, will ballot only on the proposition of a single district at the 1959 election.

D. T. Mills, county superintendent, emphasizes that all other recommendations made in the survey will, if the one district plan becomes reality, be administrative problems to be dealt with at the discretion of the new district's board.

New York Pair Awaiting News Of Stolen Baby

NEW YORK (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chionchio waited anxiously, hopefully, prayerfully for some news today of their kidnaped newborn daughter. A city shared their anxiety, their hope, their prayers.

An intense, agonizing search by police and FBI agents continued for the missing infant. She was taken from a fourth-floor nursery of St. Peter's Hospital in Brooklyn Friday night, only 2½ hours after birth.

"There are no leads," Det. Chief James B. Leggett said Sunday.

Police and private citizens were on the alert for a heavy-set bleached blonde believed to be the kidnaper. She was seen loitering in the hospital before the kidnaping. Transportation employes kept an especially watchful lookout.

San Francisco police sent here a description of a woman who took a baby from Mt. Zion Hospital there three years ago. The description fitted the woman seen at St. Peter's.

The California woman was identified as Mrs. Betty Jean Benedicto, 31, who is wanted for parole violation.

She lost a baby in 1945 and was unable to have more.

The California baby was left with a priest nine days after the kidnaping.

The baby weighed seven pounds when born Friday night to Mrs. Chionchio, 26. Mrs. Chionchio, who has one other child, Gerardette, one, remained in St. Peter's. Doctors described her as "very upset."

A break - in at the D and D Lunch at 150 N. Main St. was reported at 12:18 a.m. today. Police said nothing was found missing. Entrance was gained by breaking out a door glass to unlock the night latch, they said.

Grotewohl Visits Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl of Communist East Germany and President Gamal Abdul Nasser of the United Arab Republic met for the first time Sunday.

Grotewohl is making his first visit to a non-Communist country as Premier of the Soviet satellite. His visit is unique in that the U.A.R. and East Germany have no diplomatic relations.

At Least 17 Die In Ohio During 4-Day Holiday

By The Associated Press

Ohioans started off the second long holiday weekend in as many weeks cautiously but as the 102-hour New Year's weekend progressed, accidents became more rife and the death toll climbed.

In all, 30 persons lost their lives in the state between 6 p.m. Wednesday and Midnight Sunday. Of these, 17 were killed on the state's highways, two others died in fires and 11 were killed by carbon monoxide poisoning, falls, cuts and the like.

Thirty-two persons died in the long Christmas weekend last week.

The sudden cold wave which swept the state early Sunday leaving highways covered with ice figured in several fatal highway accidents.

Not included in the Ohio toll was the auto collision near Winfield, W. Va., which killed Mrs. Wilma Sirk, 22, of Columbus and her brother-in-law, Larry Sirk, 20, of Duck, W. Va.

The fatalities include:

Saturday

Joseph J. Karoleski, 44, Parma, when his jugular vein was cut in an industrial accident Friday.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Ciarrochi, 41, Akron, bled to death when she cut her arm trying to close a storm window.

Mrs. Shirley Agler, 31, of carbon monoxide fumes from an unvented heater in her Columbus apartment.

Ira Bookwalter and his wife, Mary, both in their 70s, from the effects of carbon monoxide fumes from an unvented gas water heater in their Springfield home.

Virgil Duffey, 29, Bloomville, when his car struck the side of a bridge near Melmore, Seneca County.

Gail Elizabeth Hess, 4, run over by a car which her mother was backing out of a driveway at their home in Covington, Miami County.

Chris James Dillon, 51, of near Urbana, thrown from the back of a hay truck which his father was driving onto Ohio 339 in Washington County.

Glen Adkins, 19, Verdunville, W. Va., in a collision on a Pickaway County road near Circleville.

William Jefferson May, 64, Portsmouth, fatally injured when he was crushed between two coils of steel at the Detroit Steel Corp. plant in Portsmouth Friday.

Roy Jones, 77, Xenia, when he was struck by a car in Xenia.

Sunday

Dillard Hornsley, 30, Franklin, in a three-car collision on U. S. 25 just north of Franklin in Warren county.

ley Mechem (R-Athens). King will win 20-13. A week from today, the new lieutenant governor, John Donahey of Alliance, will be inaugurated and the senate will have a new president.

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) will call the house to order, the members will take their oaths, the Democrats will nominate Rep. James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) as speaker and the Republicans will nominate Cloud. Lantz will win because he already has been chosen in a Democratic caucus. Formal selection of other house officers will follow.

There will be many new faces when the two houses meet. Nine of the senate members will be strangers to legislative halls; the house will have 45 with no legislative experience behind them.

One familiar face will be bobbing up on the state scene today. It will be that of Rep. John W. Brown (R-Medina). If that doesn't sound familiar, perhaps you remember him as former Lt. Gov. John W. Brown who served an 11-day term as interim governor early in 1957.

Adenauer 83

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer turned 83 today and said he's looking forward to the future with a certain measure of optimism.

"I've been hearing a lot of talk about the bad year that's ahead for us," West Germany's leader said. "But for my part I am by no means pessimistic."

Thousands Hail Castro

Rebels Continue Victory March Toward Havana

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro and thousands of his hardfighting soldiers continued their slow westward march of triumph today, savoring the adulation being heaped on them as they approached Havana.

Tens of thousands in cities, towns and villages turned out to cheer wildly as Castro and his motorized columns made their way from the Oriente province center of their rebellion which overthrew the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista last week.

The progress was slow: Camaguey, 300 miles from Havana, Sunday night; tonight, Santa Clara, scene of the decisive defeat which forced Batista to flee, 140 miles further along the march; Tuesday, Matanzas, 50 miles from the capital.

Expected Wednesday

Castro and his men were expected in the capital Wednesday afternoon for one of the greatest welcomes in Cuban history.

In a prelude, Manuel Urrutia, named provisional president by Castro, was flying from Santiago de Cuba this morning to take the central government reins in Havana.

The people of Havana awaited Castro with full stomachs for the first time since the collapse of the Batista government and the dictator's pre-dawn flight to Ciudad Trujillo.

The rebel chieftain, now commander in chief of Cuba's armed forces, ordered an end to the paralyzing general strike which had closed the nation's stores, business and industries and tied up transport and communications.

He had said he would call off the strike when he was convinced Havana was safely in the hands of his men.

There were immediate signs of a return to normalcy in the tense excited city.

Newspapers began appearing again. Stores flung open their doors to do a landoffice business selling foodstuffs to hungry Havaneros. Taxis and buses resumed operation. Industrial workers began preparing to return to their jobs.

Castro's bearded soldiers patrolled the streets with rifles, pistols, and machineguns, guarded government buildings and banks and roamed the lobbies and corridors of hotels, on the alert for violence.

Executions Under Way

Speedy executions already had been meted out to at least five Batista henchmen. They were Capt. Jose Garcia Menocal, a police inspector in the western province of Pinar del Rio; Brig. Gen. Joaquin Casilla, Batista's commander in Las Villas province, and three of his top staff officers.

Among those under arrest was Dr. Joaquin Martinez Saenz, president of the National Bank of Cuba.

The frantic exodus of thousands of American tourists eased off. Scores who had been planning to leave decided to stay. More than 1,000 had returned to the states by special ships and planes.

All commercial airlines were given permission to resume flights between the United States and Cuba early today.

Good Will at Stake

Latin America Watches U.S. Reaction to Revolt

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

HAVANA (AP) — The United States has been fairly lucky so far with the Cuban revolution.

The big neighbor to the north is still popular with the Cubans. But some of that popularity, as well as prestige elsewhere in Latin America, likely will be lost if Washington drags its feet about recognizing the new provisional government of Cuba.

Built Up Good Will

By banning the shipment of arms to Fulgencio Batista's government during the revolution, the United States seriously hurt the dictator's cause. In Cuba it was considered the United States actually had sided with Fidel Castro's rebels, particularly since smuggled arms continued to stream steadily to the rebels from U.S. sources.

That built up good will for the U.S. government. But Washington likely would surrender some of that goodwill if it lets the Soviet Union and other Communist countries grab the distinction of being the first to recognize the new regime.

Rebel Position Clear

The United States has seldom in modern history been on the side of popular revolution in the non-Communist world. And it has had little hesitation in the past in recognizing regimes brought to power through military coups d'etat. American action in Cuba will be watched throughout Latin America as an indication of whether Washington learned anything from the riots that greeted Vice President Nixon in Venezuela.

There is no point now in Washington worrying about whether Communist elements are involved in the revolution. The rebel leaders have indicated they intend to keep the Reds at arms' length.

There can be no doubt about the popularity of Castro's revolution. The depths of the hatred of the Cuban people for Batista, his dictatorship and the dreary history of corruption on a fabulous scale has to be seen to be believed.

2 Cubans Held; Cache of Arms Found in Auto

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Two Cuban natives are held in jail here along with a small arsenal authorities said was destined for Fidel Castro forces in Cuba.

U.S. Customs officials authorized Sheriff Walter Reffitt to seize the arms, which included 17 high-powered rifles, two automatic pistols and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

The sheriff's office identified the pair as Isabel Monal and Christobal Alvarado, both 27. They were en route to Miami, Fla., when arrested here during the weekend.

Officers quoted the woman as saying she had been sent from Cuba by Castro's forces to buy the guns and ammunition. She was given $10,000 to do the job, she said, and paid out about $8,000 for the shipment.

She said she met Alvarado in New York and that he was assigned to be her driver. They mapped out a route through the Midwest to avoid the East Coast, the woman told officers. They were delayed here for two days after a minor traffic accident Wednesday. Garage mechanics discovered the cache and notified the sheriff.

The girl, an exchange student at Harvard, said she knew smuggling was illegal but regarded it as her patriotic duty, officials said.

No charges have been filed pending further consultation between local officers and U.S. Customs officials.

Early Restoration Of Order Is Seen

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The American ambassador to Cuba says he thinks a new government for the revolt-torn island will form quickly.

That's the report Sunday night by Dave Roberts, Cincinnati Enquirer travel editor, who said Envoy Earl E. T. Smith told him:

"There has been confusion, of course, but we could have seen a blood bath the like of which Cuba never experienced before.

"I am now convinced that we have passed the worst and the situation will continue to level until the new government is completely established."

The ambassador also said he was impressed by quick accord between rebel troops of Fidel Castro and Cuban army units.

He said, "we were highly impressed when we saw the close fraternization that was going on between soldiers of the 26th of July movement and soldiers of the regular army."

He said Castro forces are "making every effort to return the city (Havana) to normal as soon as humanly possible."

Politics

Lowell C. Doyle (R-3rd), Ralph Williams (R-4th) and Fred Baldauf, Democratic council president, all said they are undecided.

Other possible candidates in the May 5 primary may become known this week. Both Republican and Democratic organizations have meetings scheduled for tonight and leaders of both parties said some announcements of candidacy may be made.

Candidates for nomination at the primary will have until 4 p.m. on Feb. 4 to file petitions of candidacy with the board of elections.

Three seats on the Marion City Board of Education will be filled in the general election next November along with school board and council posts in villages. Candidates for these posts do not file until August.

26 Meet With Eisenhower

Top Congress Leaders Get Briefing on Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower had notice today Democrats are ready to increase his figures if they feel defense spending has been cut too sharply in budget-balancing efforts.

In advance of a bipartisan White House briefing on defense and foreign policies, Democrats, who control the new Congress by top-heavy margins, already were challenging the adequacy of the President's 77-billion-dollar budget.

Invited to the White House briefing were 26 Senate and House members, including leaders of both parties there and senior members of the Armed Services, Appropriations, and Foreign Affairs committees.

Renew Demands

Democrats have renewed their calls for more U.S. action in the space field in the wake of the Soviet Union's successful cosmic rocket shot. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said the Soviet accomplishment had emphasized the task of Congress in meeting what he called "some of the greatest challengers in our history."

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, already has attacked Eisenhower's contention the budget can be balanced at 77 billion dollars. Mansfield said revenue for the new fiscal year beginning July 1 won't exceed 75½ billion dollars, even if spending is held down.

Additional Funds

Eisenhower said the new budget will provide some adidtional money for defense purposes over the $40,800,000,000 of the current year, but gave no figure.

Rep. George Manon (D-Tex) chairman of the House Subcommittee on Defense Appropriations, said Sunday he thinks Eisenhower will suggest about 42 billion dollars and added:

"I don't think that will be too much. It could be too little. The emphasis should be on advanced weapons projects. I want to be sure that no advanced weapons projects are sacrificed for purely monetary reasons."

Although Republican leaders have indicated they expect to support the President's efforts to head off inflation by limiting government spending, there was some uneasiness on the GOP side about the defense totals.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, candidate of a GOP liberal group for party floor leader, said Congress has its own responsibility to determine the amounts needed for defense. He said Eisenhower's word is not necessarily final on this score.

U.S., Canada Open Annual Trade Parley

OTTAWA (AP) — Top U.S. and Canadian officials open annual talks tonight aimed at reducing friction that could hurt their seven billion dollars worth of across-the-border trade, a world high for any two countries.

Secretary of State Dulles was to lead the group of high U.S. officials due at nearby Uplands Airport this afternoon for meetings with Canadian officials headed by Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming.

Dulles and his companions likely are after assurances that Canada won't be using her new tough antidumping laws to discriminate against U.S. textiles and other exports.

The United States has already lodged formal protests, charging that the new laws enacted last year are a breach of Canada's international trade obligations. Canada's conservative administration has rejected the protests, arguing the legislation is fair and reasonable.

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Elyria Telephone Co. has announced its rates are going up to: $6 for a one-party customer; $5.25 for two-party; $4.60 for five party; and $4.35 for 10-party. The new rates, approved Saturday by the utilities commission, will cost the average customer seven cents more a day.

Motorist Arrested After Rt. 4 Crash

BUCYRUS — A Pleasantville driver was charged with driving left of center and cited to appear in Bucyrus Mayor's Court after a mishap on Rt. 4 four miles south of here Sunday morning.

Investigating officers said the northbound auto driven by Charles O. Holliday, 19, of Pleasantville, skidded left of center to strike a southbound car driven by Franklin F. White, 48, of Sandusky.

The impact sent the Holliday vehicle into the west ditch and the White auto into the east ditch, according to the report. Both cars were considerably damaged. The accident occurred at 9:50 a.m.

Holiday Party Planned For Dancing Students

Mrs. Joseph Maniaci, proprietor of the Martha Doüce Dance studio, will be hostess at 7 o'clock tonight to a Christmas-New Year's party for her students in the UAW-Union Hall on Leader St.

Between 500 and 550 youngsters between the ages of 3 and 18 are expected to attend the party, with Flippo, the WTVN television clown to highlight the festivities. A short program will precede Flippo's appearance and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Maniaci says the fete is a "present" to all her pupils.

Cincinnatian Takes Dip At Six Below, Wins $20

CINCINNATI (AP)—The official thermometer showed the temperature to be six degrees below zero here this morning, but Ron James, 24, scoffed at it.

"Just good swimming weather," he said in a restaurant.

One word brought on another, as they do, so James and three witnesses walked to the Little Miami River edge. There he undressed, leaped into the stream, submerged, jumped out, dressed and returned to the restaurant for a cup of coffee.

Mrs. Ruth Brock, at whose restaurant the weather discussion began, said James won $20 for his cold plunge.

It was not much of a feat for a former member of the nation's underwater demolition group, James declared.

He was on his lunch hour at the time, and returned to his job following another cup of coffee.

Presidents, Irish Suffer Reversals in Cage Action

The Star Sports

MONDAY, JANUARY 5, 1959 THE MARION STAR PAGE 14

Ashland in 65-52 Upset at Harding

By JOHN SHORT

Harding High School's cage squad faces the unpleasant task this week of meeting Elyria's classy, undefeated cage squad and Coach Don Knodel is studying several shifts in the Prexy starting ranks.

Knodel, bitterly disappointed after a 65-52 setback at the hands of Ashland here Saturday night, indicated he will begin studying new starting combinations of manpower in drills today.

The Harding squad continued its haphazard play against the Arrows, being charged with 22 turnovers. Those misplays included 10 bad passes, 11 fumbles and one traveling infraction.

IN ADDITION the Prexies connected on only 18 of 61 field goal attempts for a 28 per cent shooting average.

In indicating he may open against Elyria with a new starting unit Knodel said, "If we are going to get beat, we may as well give our younger players some experience. We'll be like the Cincinnati Redlegs, building for next year."

The Saturday night clash was a nip and tuck affair through the first half. Harding took an early lead on a field goal by Mike Chamberlain and a free throw by Bob Middleton but from that point, Coach George Valentine's victors spurted to a 8-5 edge on the work of Dave Wait and Jim Kopp. The first period ended with Ashland holding a 13-11 margin.

THE ARROWS retained the lead until midway of the second quarter when George Kirk scored on a steal and Chamberlain dropped in a charity toss to tie the score at 18-all. Wait dropped in a pair of fielders from the outside and added a foul shot later in the period to give his mates a 24-20 edge but Middleton scored on two free throws and Chamberlain added a foul shot and a jump shot with five seconds left to tie the score 25-25 at the half.

The invaders outscored Harding 22-8 in the third period to clinch the verdict. Thirteen of the Ashland points were pumped in by Wait. Harding lost the services of starter George Kirk with less than a minute elapsed when he contacted his fifth personal foul. At one point in third quarter play, Harding was charged with four straight turnovers without getting off a shot. The Arrows' spurt gave them a 47-33 margin after three quarters.

It was the third setback against five wins for the Presidents. They will be seeking their third win against a pair of setbacks in Buckeye Conference play when they entertain Elyria Friday night. The Presidents will invade Worthington for a Saturday clash.

—:—

COACH AL BEACH'S reserve team hiked its record to 6-2 with a 48-44 win in Saturday's preliminary.

The Vice Presidents grabbed a 11-10 lead in the first quarter and were out front by a 24-21 margin at the half. They went into the last quarter with a 31-28 bulge.

Pete Porietis and Jim Maginn shared scoring honors for the winners, each netting 12 points. Laughlin was high for Ashland with 11.

South Notches 21-12 Win in Senior Battle

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) —Two of the finest passers in the land were on the field. But two hard running fullbacks took the laurels in Saturday's 10th annual Senior Bowl game, won by the South 21-12.

Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns had Baylor's Buddy Humphrey at the South controls in the nationally televised game. Lee Grosscup of Utah was the starter at quarterback for North Coach Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame.

Humphrey was the nation's leading passer this season. Grosscup was No. 1 a year ago.

But it was Theron Sapp of Georgia and Norm Odyniec of Notre Dame who won honors. They both scored TDs and tied in the poll of sports writers for most valuable player.

Brown found his ground game working so well that Humphrey tried only 11 passes, completing four for 97 yards and a touchdown. Grosscup connected on 14 of 26 passes for 168 yards.

The biggest yardage was amassed by the workhorse fullbacks. The 5-11, 180-pound Odyniec ran up 192 yards on 25 carries for a 7.7 average. Sapp, a 5-11, 200-pounder, got 158 on 23 cracks for 6.9 yards per carry. Most of the yardage came the hard way between tackle.

The other score came in the first quarter when Humphrey passed 20 yards to end Bob Pepe of North Carolina State in the end zone to cap a 67-yard drive after the opening kickoff.

Claridon Grabs Easy Decision In Edison Tilt

Claridon's Hornets rolled over Edison 63-30 in a non-league contest Saturday night at the Edison floor.

Coach Bus Augenstein's charges grabbed an early lead and coasted to the victory. They led 18-12 after one quarter and were out front 37-17 at the halftime break. They went into the final eight minutes with a 56-28 bulge and Edison managed only two points during the last period.

Max Strine popped in 21 points to lead the Claridon attack while Baxter had 18 and Dick Kelley netted 12. Glen Kraner was high for the losers with nine.

As a team, Claridon connected on 24 of 54 field goal attempts for a 44 per cent shooting average, Edison finished the contest with an icy 12 per cent mark from the floor.

Claridon also scored a romp in the reserve contest, hanging up a 32-7 decision.

Rout Zanesville Squad

YMCA's Wrestlers Record Win in Season's Opener

The Marion YMCA's varsity wrestling team registered its first dual meet victory of the 1959 season with a stunning 40-10 thumping of Zanesville on the local mat Saturday.

In a contest which was close only for the first four matches of the 11-match card, the Marion team showed the visitors its heels with an overwhelming late surge which left Zanesville hopelessly behind.

Joel Lenavitt began the meet with a pin over Zurbrugg in 1:19 of the first period. Lenavitt went ahead 2-0 at the opening whistle and rode his man into the terminating hold. Zanesville bounced back with a pin win registered over John Keller by highly rated co-captain Lynn Worstall, to tie the score at 5-5.

Clyde Thomas regained the lead for Marion with a quick 1:59 conquest of Castner, but Warne of the visitors put Zanesville back in the match with a decision win over Buster Vande Water to set the team tally at 10-8 Marion.

At this point Marion caught fire as Dale Kibbey registered a pin over Stage in 1:56 and Marty Kaufman downed Mills via the same route in 3:56. Harry Spring continued the rout with a pin over Woods in 3:24, and Bud Kelley put the stops to Joe Dyser with an 8-0 decision victory. Bill Thatcher achieved victory number 30 with a pinning combination over Zurbrugg in 36 seconds.

Jim Jones, wrestling Zanesville's best, fought Worstall to a draw at 2-2 to give Zanesville its last score of the match. Jerry Gibson, working at unlimited, put on the final touches with a 2:15 pin over Castner to achieve the final score.

Marion ended the afternoon's festivities with seven victories by the pin route along with one decision win and one draw.

The locals will travel to Huntington, Ind., to meet the team that defeated them in a scrimmage contest early in December. The next home meet will be Saturday, Jan. 17, when the home team will play host to North Canton High School.

Blackbourn New Marquette Coach

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lisle W. (Liz) Blackbourn, the man who coached Marquette University football teams from 1950 to 1953, was back on the job today after a lapse of five years.

And Marquette hopes he is the man who will lead the Warriors out of the football dumps. Marquette has won only 7 of 47 games since Blackbourn's departure in 1953.

Blackbourn, 58, coached the Green Bay Packers for four seasons, winning 17 and losing 31.

He was fired after the 1957 season, then went to Carroll College in Waukesha, Wis., for a year and won 6 of 8 games.

Rockets Down Mount Gilead In 59-46 Win

Ridgedale, in a non-league basketball game played Saturday night on the Rocket boards, handed Mount Gilead their second loss of the season, 59-46.

Mentor Bill Phillips' cagers, trailing at halftime, came on to win handily over Len Walls' Indians, chalking up, in the process, their seventh triumph in eight outings.

Ridgedale rolled in 26 goals and seven free throws, compared to 18 and 10 respectively for Mount Gilead.

By quarter's end the count was 17-12 in favor of the visitors, who

Catholic Defeated By Rockets 47-43

Marion Catholic's basketballers came close to their first hardcourt win of the season in Saturday night's game with Scioto Valley, but they didn't quite make the grade and thereby suffered their eighth straight loss, 47-43.

Coach Thad Seeley's Rockets, down at the quarter 11-10, rallied to take a 33-28 halftime lead, faltered in the third period but held onto a 39-38 edge, then came from behind in the fourth session to take the decision.

SCIOTO, by game's end, had turned the Irish back at the foul line. Ray Robbins' cagers matched the Rockets from the field, with 18 completions. But, while Seeley's lads were rimming Irish buckets for 11 free throws, Marion Catholic was getting a paltry seven.

Jerry Dewey paced the Rocket attack with 14 points, with Leroy Stults posting 11. High scorer for the game, however, was Marion's Paul Hurney, whose seven goals and four free throws were good for 18 tallies. Dennis Dickerson got eight and Ted Anderson seven.

The Irish played without the services of sophomore Larry Roth, who flew to Iowa with his parents for the holidays and was unable to get back when adverse weather conditions grounded their plane. Roth canned 19 points in the Catholic carnival loss to Mansfield St. Peter last week.

Hurney fouled out of the contest with five minutes left in the fourth quarter.

SCIOTO VALLEY, registering its third win of the current campaign, scored first and led 4-0 before the Irish could count. The Robbinsmen came on, though, to take over the lead at quarter's end.

The point spread was never more than five points in the first half, with the Rockets holding a 20-15 lead midway in the frame.

Trailing 33-28 at the half, Robbins' cagers started a third period splurge that gave them a 37-36 lead early in the frame. Scioto had recaptured the advantage by a single point, however, as the fourth quarter came into being.

The Irish had one more chance to take the victory in the finale. They got the lead at 41-40 early in the session, then edged ahead at 43-40 with 4:10 left to play. With 3:00 showing the count was all tied up at 43-43 and the Valleyans went from there to rack up a four-point lead and the eventual victory.

The Irish hit 45 per cent of their shots from the field and canned free throws at a 31 per cent clip.

The Rocket frosh took the reserve game by a 38-35 count.

Marion will be in Cardington Tuesday night for a game with the Pirates of Dick Reinehr.

Art Wall Tops Tourney Field At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Tournament-tested Art Wall Jr., who almost stayed home, led the way into the final round today of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open golf classic.

The personable Wall, a slender, youngish 35, went into the final 18 holes in quest of the $5,300 top money with rounds of 71-68-68 and a total score of 207, six blows under par for the distance.

He was one stroke ahead of 25-year-old Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla.

The one-time Duke University star, who plays out of Pocono Manor, Pa., disclosed how he almost decided against coming out for this one. On Dec. 29 one of his four children, Gregory, 7, fell into a frozen pond.

It could have been tragic but the lad was rescued in time. That, plus the strain of moving into his new home during the holidays and his busy golfing year, were the factors against coming west.

He actually didn't change his mind until a few hours before his plane left Pennsylvania Dec. 30.

Sanders, who led after two rounds, fell back Sunday with a 73. Also remaining in contention were Billy Maxwell, now at 209, and Tommy Bolt, Mike Souchak and John Mc Mullin at 210.

Cincinnati on Rebound

Bearcats Face Bradley, Title Chances at Stake

By The Associated Press

Humiliated by two consecutive defeats in the Dixie Classic last week, Cincinnati and Big O, Oscar Robertson, jump right back into the fire tonight when they tangle with Bradley.

All last season, the Bearcats lost only three games. Bradley licked them early in the campaign. Then it was Oklahoma State and finally Kansas State in the NCAA tournament. They took Bradley over the second time around, however.

Team's Pride Hurt

This is a big one for Robertson and company. Their pride has been hurt. More realistically, Bradley is rated the only team in the Missouri Valley Conference with the possible exception of St. Louis, with a chance of knocking Cincinnati out of the title.

The Braves also are undefeated, having raced past all eight of their opponents to date. They warmed up to their task by turning back Drake, 91-57, Saturday night.

Another worry for Cincinnati is the possibility of being knocked right out of the top 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll. None of the others in the select circle last week has lost more than one game and three—Kentucky, Auburn and Bradley—are undefeated.

Kentucky, riding along at the top of the heap with 11 victories—high in the nation—polished off Georgia Tech, 72-62, Saturday.

But Adolph Rupp's slick Wildcats may not have things easy this year. Already they're casting worried looks over their shoulder in the direction of Auburn. The Wildcats won the 1958 Southeastern Conference title by just one game over Auburn, which is about as thin as you can slice it.

Seek Ninth Straight

The Plainsmen figure to make Mississippi their ninth straight victim tonight after dealing Mississippi State its first defeat, 97-66, Saturday.

Kansas State, No. 3 in the nation behind Kentucky and Cincinnati, has been the class of the Big 8 so far in non-league games and opens its loop season against Iowa State.

The same can't be said of Northwestern, which along with Michigan State, is the current co-favorite in the Big 10 race. The Wildcats barely edged Iowa, 80-77 in their league opener Saturday and Coach Bill Rohr observed that "we were lucky to get out alive."

Northwestern is ranked No. 6 and Michigan State No. 7 in the AP ratings. The Spartans had a close shave, too, nipping Indiana, the defending champion, 79-77.

Northwestern plays Michigan tonight and Michigan State goes against Iowa.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, the main battle is developing between North Carolina and North Carolina State. They are running 4-5 in the AP poll and have almost identical records—8-1 for the Tar Heels and 9-1 for State.

The Tar Heels turned back Notre Dame, 69-54, in a nationally televised game Saturday.

After a week of activity in the Pacific Coast Conference, Southern California leads the parade with a 2-0 mark. Defending champion California has a 1-1 mark.

Texas A&M so far has justified its role as Southwest Conference favorite by clipping Southern Methodist, 65-63, Saturday to run its overall record to 9-1. In the Southern Conference, it's West Virginia (4-0) as usual at the top.

Idaho State, with a 9-2 record in nonleague play, is the big favorite in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

Utah, the favorite, helps open the Skyline Conference season against Montana Wednesday night.

Pleasant Rips Radnor 67-40 In Cage Action

Pleasant's hardcourt Pandas rolled over a visiting Radnor quintet Saturday night 67-40.

Stan Kirby's cagers, hitting for 32 goals and three free throws, compared to 17 and five respectively for Radnor, led at the quarter 16-13, held a 29-25 halftime edge and were far in the van at 44-28 after three periods of play.

The third quarter was what killed Radnor's chances. For, after scoring 13 and 12 points in the first two frames, the visiting quintet managed only three digits in that eight minutes of action. Meanwhile, Pleasant, which had accounted for 16 and 13 points in the preceding two sessions, came up with 15 tallies in the third and then added 23 in the finale to ice the victory cake.

Larry Mahaffey was high scorer for the Pandas, rolling in eight goals and a single free throw for 17 points. Jack Stone got 16 and Jeff Peacock posted 12.

Ted Coonfare was high for Radnor with 16 points, while Dave James rolled in 11.

The reserve game also went to Pleasant, with the Panda frosh recording a 39-29 win.

Ollie Matson, Layne Star in Win by Pros

HONOLULU (AP) — Bobby Layne and Ollie Matson, who passed up the Pro Bowl game, starred Sunday as a professional team beat a band of collegians 47-27 in the 13th Hula Bowl.

Layne, a Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback, threw five touchdown passes, one a 60-yarder that end Billy Howton of Green Bay turned into a 91-yard touchdown play.

Matson, a Chicago Cardinal, was a big ground gainer. He and San Francisco 49er Joe Perry took the ball 75 yards in five plays in one fourth quarter drive.

Layne and Matson still have some accounting to do to National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell for passing up next Sunday's Pro Bowl at Los Angeles for the island trip. Bell says he will seek disciplinary action against the pair at the next NFL meeting.

Martel Beaten In 84-53 Fray

An underpar Martel team dropped an 84-53 verdict to Delaware St. Mary Saturday night at the winners' floor.

The Martel squad dropped behind 24-10 in the first period and trailed at the half 43-30. The losers were on the short end 60-46 count at the start of the final eight minutes.

Coach Paul Zwayer's team was weakened by the loss of several cagers to flu. Among the idled cagers were Lester Lyon, starting center for the Marion Countians. Earlier in the season, Martel whipped the Delaware team in easy fashion.

Paul Thacker led the Martel attack with 17 points while Clarence Thacker and Barr each hit for 12. Welsh pumped in 30 to lead the winners while Oberle hit for 18, Flavin for 15 and Basbagill for 13.

Bulldogs Nail 9th in Row in 63-61 Thriller

Prospect's undefeated Bulldogs were pushed to the limit Saturday night by a tall, scrappy Northwestern quintet before racking up their ninth win of the season, 63-61.

Playing at their court, the Bulldogs experienced their coldest shooting period of the season in the first stanza, hitting on only 13 per cent from the field, and were on the short end of an apparent rout, 19-8, at the quarter's end.

Workhorse Tom Rodgers, who ended the night's play with 31 points, was the only Bulldog to hit from the opening period as he was able to connect twice.

Lauer Still Out

Hurting on rebound strength due to the absence of 6-2 starter Dave Lauer, who recently underwent an emergency appendectomy, the Bulldogs put on a spirited rally in the second stanza against their taller opponents.

They outscored the visiting Bears 17 to 5 during the first seven minutes of play and trailed only 26-25 with a minute left in the half. Three quick free throws and a fielder put the Bears ahead 31-25 at intermission.

Prospect tied the score early in the third period at 32-32. Then after Northwestern had taken back the lead at 35-32, the Bulldogs not only caught them once again, but passed them and appeared to be on a rout of their own as they scored 13 straight markers and forged into a 45-35 lead.

Then the tables turned again as the Bulldogs lost more rebound power when 6-3 Moser was called to the bench by Coach Fred McCumber after committing his fourth personal. Northwestern took advantage of this and started another rally which was only interrupted when the quarter ended with Prospect ahead 47-44.

Scoring 17 points while holding the Bulldogs to a single fielder, Northwestern forged into a 52-47 lead with 5:15 left in the game.

After a brief Bulldog uprising the score was tied at 53 all and Moser returned to the lineup for a brief time before committing his fifth personal.

Move Into Lead

The two teams were tied at 55-55 and 57-57 before the Bears jumped ahead 59-57. A free throw and basket by Rodgers once again gave the home team the lead at 60-59.

Hicks, big gun for Northwestern with 24 points, then hit on a jump shot with 1:10 left to make it 61-60 Northwestern. With 40 seconds left, Rodgers stole the ball and drove in for a layup which put the Bulldogs ahead to stay. With only seconds remaining, Hicks committed his fifth personal and Bumgartner sank a free toss to end the scoring at 63-61.

The defeat was only the second in nine games for the visiting Bears who had won seven in a row after an opening game one point overtime loss to Pleasant.

Prospect's reserves won their seventh tilt in eight outings, dumping the little Bears 49-27.

Tuesday the Bulldogs will entertain one of the state's highest scoring quintets when they meet Fredericktown's Freddies on the Marion Coliseum boards. Perennial Columbus area Class A powerhouse, the Freddies have won 8 of 10 to date and have averaged better than 80 points a tilt in doing so.

'Y' Swimmers Split in Meet Against Lima

Marion "Y" tankers split their first league meets with Lima Saturday at the Lima pool with the prep team an easy 59-18 victor while the juniors made a great effort to preserve their unbeaten record but fell 40-35 before the defending state champs.

Prep butterflyers Dave Price and Gregg Harruff finished 1-3 to put Marion ahead for the rest of the afternoon after the first event. Tom Shambaugh, veteran freestyler, won the first of his two victories in the 40 yard freestyle followed by teammate Chubby Wettergreen. Wins by Danny Hale in backstroke. Wettergreen in the 20 yard sprint, and John Murray in the breatstroke quickly followed. Lima's Faurot took the diving to prevent a Marion sweep as both relay teams were victorious.

The Wilt brothers of Lima combined for four wins to hand the Marion junior team its first loss in three years and its fourth since being established. The Marion team has only seven boys out for the squad so has been hurt by a lack of depth and material. The locals kept the score close with wins by Jack Howser and Mike Bartley in the 40 yard freestyle and diving events while taking most of the seconds and thirds. The freestyle team of Kenny Tillman, Brian Bray, Bob White and Howser also won in a good time of 1:33.9 over the 160 yards.

Marion squads will all be active this week with the varsity team traveling to Fremont High School Thursday then all the boys teams meeting the Columbus YMCA in the local pool on Saturday. The girls team will make its second start at Lima also on Saturday against the Lima YMCA in the opening league meet.

CAREY — Carey's Blue Devils rallied in the second half Saturday night at Hardin-Northern to clip McGuffey, 59-58 in the championship game of the Hardin-Northern holiday tournament.

The host team whipped Alger 58-51 in the consolation contest.

The Carey quintet dropped behind 20-13 in the first quarter and trailed McGuffey 37-21 at the halftime intermission before making its comeback. A 19-point spurt, sparked by Tom Greer, enabled the Blue Devils to cut their deficit to 49-40 at the start of the final eight minutes. Coaches Seek Parleys With Major Loops

CINCINNATI (AP) — College baseball coaches today expressed optimism that a summit meeting may be held sometime in the future with representatives of the major leagues.

LeRoy Timm, coach at Iowa State College and president of the American Assn. of Baseball Coaches, stressed that the organization feels its relationship with professional baseball has improved and that such a meeting is not a necessity.

"We are not seeking a hassle with the pros," Timm said, "but we do, as always, object to indiscriminate signing of college players.

"If a boy is an excellent prospect and deserves a chance to play pro baseball, we are glad to see him get that opportunity, but we are never happy when pro scouts sign a boy and merely succeed in disrupting his education."

But Timm said he believes the whole subject of college-pro relationship in baseball has gotten out of perspective. He said a summit meeting between the college group and a major league delegation made up of Commissioner Ford Frick and the owners would help clear up the situation.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Bilko's Fourth Hitch

I had a talk with Phil Silvers the other day on that troublesome problem—longevity in TV. Sergeant Bilko has just rounded out his fourth year on TV and, as far as I'm concerned, he's as funny as ever. This is not unprecedented but it is unusual. Comedians wear out their welcome awfully fast on television.

JOHN CROSBY

Silvers, I discovered, is less optimistic about the show than the CBS brass. "I wanted to get out, you know," he said. "I'm not a career man in the Army. But they told me: 'Phil, you can't really judge it. We're about two years closer to it than the viewers are.'

"Nobody sees all our shows—not even my closest friends. If you're a performer it gets awfully easy to assume that everyone is as familiar with your show as you are. You get to thinking you have to be completely new and different every week. And you don't.

"OF COURSE, one reason for the continued freshness of the show is that we change our camp locale. Eventually we'll go to Europe. The show begs for it. It's a natural.

"We once did send a man to Europe to take a few hundred still shows because we have a great three-dimensional gimmick which makes the scenery look live. This guy shot everything, the Louvre, homes, the British Museum.

"The pictures, I heard, were great. But I never saw them. He took a ship home called the Andrea Doria—and that was that."

The Silvers show has no set policy on guest stars and that, he pointed out, was a great relief.

"We have guest stars from time to time—but are not tyrannized by them. We don't have to have them. Guests come on as themselves—and they have a ball on our show."

Silvers has complete sway over the show but he seldom exercises it. "They can't hire a page boy without my okay but I can't do it that way. I can't edit films. I don't know anything about lighting—beyond saying: That light's too bright.

"I do stay on scripts though. Sometimes I don't see the scripts until the last minute but I still change them.

"I always respect the writers but you've got to know the medium. All the shows can't be great when you're working week to week. But I can promise you that every show will have five minutes in it that are good."

-:-

MOST OF THEM in my opinion, have more than that. The Silvers show week in week out, hits an awfully high level of genuine, fast-paced original comedy.

It's one of the few things left on television that the eggheads still speak of with great respect and affection. Much of this is due to Silvers' own great grounding in burlesque and vaudeville. He keeps the ball spinning in midair even when there isn't much of a ball to keep spinning.

"I don't really know anything much about the Army," he explains. "I was in the USO. I don't really know the proper commands or the protocol of the Army. But I'm an impatient comedian. I can't stand a void. So whenever one comes I yell, 'hip rop gloop up,'—anything to fill the void. And it works. I look under the carpet all the time to keep things moving, to make the show better."

On Jan. 16, Silvers is repeating a show which he considers the funniest half-hour on television "unconditionally."

This is a show in which a monkey gets into the Army and they have the devil's own time getting him legally out of it.

"When Nat Hiken suggested the idea, I flipped. Up to then we had a reasonable amount of plausibility on the show—and this seemed ridiculous. So I said to Hiken 'Make it plausible and we'll do it.' And he made it plausible, awfully plausible. I tell you it's the funniest half hour on television."

Just so that he won't die of boredom between now and spring, Silvers and his whole crew will do an hour-long spectacular on CBS on Jan. 23. Silvers describes it as "sort of a Bilko musical comedy—or two Bilko shows put together with music."

Sam Rayburn To Mark 77th Birthday Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) reaches his 77th birthday Tuesday.

The Texan will meet with fellow Democratic congressmen in the morning at a party caucus to map plans for the 86th Congress, which convenes Wednesday.

Born Jan. 6, 1882 in Roane County, Tenn., Rayburn went to Texas with his parents when a child and was reared on a farm in the northeastern part of the state.

Once speaker of the Texas legislature, the Bonham legislator was elected to Congress in 1913. He has been speaker of the U.S. House since 1940 except for four years when the Republicans were in the majority—longer than any other man in history.

Child Hurt in Crash

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Frances Truslow, 11, of 1017 Camus Rd., Belpre, Ohio, was reported in critical condition in Charleston General Hospital after her parents' car skidded into the path of another auto here Sunday.

Cooper GOP Leadership Candidate

Kentucky Senator Has Middle-of-Road Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R - Ky) first joined the senate in 1947, his first two votes were contrary to the wishes of the GOP leadership.

"Are you a Democrat of Republican?" the then GOP senate leader Robert A. Taft of Ohio, asked Cooper that year. "When are you going to start voting with us?"

"If you will pardon me," Cooper replied coolly, "I was sent here to represent my constituents and I intend to vote as I think best."

Today, as the candidate of an insurgent bloc of liberal Republicans for the senate GOP leadership, Cooper can show a voting record containing a number of disagreements with his more conservative colleagues.

Balks at Label

Cooper himself balks at the "liberal" label. He says he considers this group simply more progressive than the senators led by his opponent, Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill).

The usually pro - Democratic Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) and the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) both appear to agree with this opinion.

ADA, in a summary of congressional voting records, approved 58 per cent of Cooper's votes in 1958 and 75 per cent of them in 1957. COPE said Cooper voted "right" 12 times and wrong, four times in 1957-58.

On the other hand, Dirksen was favored by ADA on only 25 per cent of his 1958 votes and on 58 per cent of them in 1957. COPE called him "wrong" on 11 votes in 1957-58 and "right" on only five.

Random Comparisons

Here are random comparisons of some of Cooper's votes differing with Dirksen's over the last five years, along with President Eisenhower's position, where known:

On freezing farm prices (1958): Dirksen against; Cooper for; (President against).

On eliminating bonuses to states to regulate bill board displays on interstate highways: Dirksen for; Cooper against; (President against).

On new rules for senate (1957, making it harder to filibuster); Dirksen against; Coooer, for.

On building federal dam at Hells Canyon: Dirksen against; Cooper for; (President against).

On self-financing plan for Tennessee Valley Authority: Dirksen against; Cooper for; (President against).

On censuring the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis): Dirksen against; Cooper for.

Restaurant Razed By Fire at Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The El Rocco Restaurant here was destroyed by fire Sunday night, several hours after a 59-year-old man was burned to death in a house fire in Perry Twp.

Devere H. Schwier died in the fire at a two-story home at 118 Perry Rd. Miss Ruth Zaugg, owner of the property, was burned severely on the arms and face. Chief James Sanderson of the Perry Twp. Fire Department said the fire started in papers piled near a hot air duct downstairs.

Damage to the El Rocco, formerly known as Yant's Cottage, was estimated by firemen as $50,000.

Firemen blocked off busy Twelfth Street while they worked for nearly two hours to bring the fire under control. The cause of the fire was not determined, but firemen believe it started in the center of the one-floor structure near the kitchen and vestibule.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Two local men were injured in one of the two weekend accidents investigated in the county by Marion post patrolmen.

The injury mishap occurred on County Rd. 167 two miles northeast of Marion at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. It involved cars driven by Harley L. Foos, 61, of near Marion, and Murrell C. Evans Jr., 21, of New Washington.

Patrolmen said the westbound Foos car was slowed to make a left turn into a private drive when the Evans auto approached and skidded into the rear end of the Foos vehicle.

Both Foos and a passenger in his car, William Hackworth, 24, of 666 E. Mark St., sustained a sprained neck and back. They were treated by an area physician, according to the report.

Evans was charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance. Both vehicles were considerably damaged, patrolemn said.

A Fremont driver escaped injury when his auto failed to negotiate a curve on Rt. 23 about three miles north of Marion and plowed through a farm fence, coming to rest in a field.

Officers said the southbound auto driven by Charles A. Ripple, 52, was only slightly damaged. It crashed through a fence owned by Delmar Brewer of near Marion.

Ripple was charged with driving left of center. The mishap occurred at 11:55 a.m. Sunday.

8 Accidents in City

One person was injured slightly in one of eight traffic accidents investigated over the weekend by Marion police. Hurt in an accident in the 300 block of N. Main St. at 6:08 p.m. Saturday was Mattie A. Thacker, 38, of 283 Niles St. She was taken to a doctor's office for treatment of minor injuries.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Chester Thacker, 45, of the same address which was struck from the rear by a car driven by Emmett J. Young, 50, of 674 Windsor St., police said.

One of the accidents was a hit-skip. It occurred at 3:28 p.m. Saturday in the 100 block of W. Fairground St. A car being driven west by Carl Zimmerman, 39, of 275 Ballentine Ave. was struck by an east bound car identified as owned by Ripley Motors of 646 N. Main St.

A parked car in the 500 block of N. Greenwood St. was struck at 12:25 a.m. today by a truck driven by Walter H. Reynolds, 50, of 136 N. State St. The parked car was owned by B. Keatter Hill of 574 N. Greenwood St.

A city snow plow struck a car driven by Nelson E. Greiner, 41, of Columbus, at S. Main and Center streets at 9:15 a.m. Sunday. The snow plow driver, James H. Waddle, 28, of 975 N. State St., said he was waiting behind the car for a traffic light when his foot slipped off the clutch pedal.

A collision in the 200 block of Cass Ave. at 12:15 p.m. Saturday involved cars driven by Oscar May, 35, of 425 Scranton Ave. and Harrison B. Jones, 70, of 294 Cass Ave. Police cited Jones on a charge of reckless driving.

Each of the other three accidents caused less than $100 total damage, Marion police estimated.

Traffic Cases

Five traffic cases were disposed of in Marion Municipal Court Friday. They were: William Waller, 22, of Columbus, forfeited a $50 bond, no driver's license; Harvey A. Doss, 26, of 382 E. Mark St., $15 and costs, reckless driving; Dwight H. Hornbeck, 27, of near Marion, $15 and costs, speeding; James D. Parker, 27, of Lakewood, $15 and costs, speeding; James F. Jones, 47, of Toledo, $15 and costs, improper backing.

—Wyandot—

UPPER SANDUSKY — Frank Thompson, 26, of Forest was fined $20 and costs in Upper Sandusky Municipal Court Saturday on a reckless operation charge filed by the Wyandot County sheriff's department.

—Delaware—

DELAWARE — Three area drivers were cited to appear in Delaware Municipal Court today, arresting patrolmen here reported.

Motorists and their charges are: Howard Dominy, 40, of near Delaware, permitting an unlicensd minor to operate a car; William A. Fagan, 34, of near Galena, driving with unrepaired broken headlight, and Harold R. Wells, 19, of near Leonardsburg, speeding.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced toward new highs in very heavy trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to a point or more.

The ticker tape was late repeatedly as strong buying pressure came in wave after wave.

For the first two hours turnover was a half million shares better than Friday when the day's total was 3,380,000.

Investment demand went from group to group and was not sustained enough in any one section of the market to cause very large gains anywhere except in a few special situations.

Steels, motors, rails, aircrafts, utilities and most chemicals were higher. Nonferrous metals, drugs and airlines were mixed while tobaccos were firm.

U S. government bonds were modestly higher.

Voice Was Parakeet's

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Firefighters heard what they thought was a human voice on the second floor of a burning dwelling Sunday.

Several of them put on gas masks and went to the apartment of Edward Anderson, 80. They got there too late. "Tweety," Anderson's parakeet, suffocated after apparently trying to attract attention.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief. Our method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom any loss of time from work.

We do not treat cancer.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.
